1 Listen and Discuss

A. What do you think?

What is a slouch detector?

Do animals laugh?

What are super foods?

How old is cooking?

Which creatures are older than dinosaurs?

B. Read the texts and find out.

Have you noticed how often people, who spend a long time sitting at a desk, complain about back pain? When we've been sitting for a long time we are not conscious of our posture. Slouching affects the position of our neck and spine and causes back pains or even headaches. A small gadget that operates as a "slouch detector" comes to the rescue! The gadget monitors your neck and spinal position and buzzes, when the position is less than ideal! All you need to do is clip the gadget onto your shirt. However, you need to remember not to take any notice when the gadget buzzes for the wrong reason; for example when you lean over to answer the phone or get something from a drawer! Do you think the slouch detector is worth buying? Would you use it?

An Australian biogeneticist and his team began developing a vitamin-A-enriched banana to combat the destructive effects of vitamin A deficiency in sub-Saharan Africa. The banana was chosen as it made up a lot of the children's diet in the area, where about a third of the children under the age of 5 are at risk of going blind due to vitamin A deficiency. Provided that this type of "super banana" can actually be cultivated locally, and consumed by a substantial number of people, this type of food re-engineering might be extended to a wider range of products around the world. What do you think? Is intervening and reengineering crops a good idea?

Evidence has led scientists to suggest that early humans cooked their first hot meals more than 1.9 m years ago. The invention of cooking was a crucial factor in human evolution as it allowed our ancestors to expand their diet and to obtain more calories and nutrients from their food. Cooking softened food and made endless chewing redundant. This, according to scientists, resulted in the disappearance of large teeth which were replaced by smaller ones. It also reduced feeding times considerably and allowed early humans to develop different skills. According to Harvard evolutionary biologist, Richard Wrangham, controlling and using fire to cook was instrumental to the development of modern man. What do you think? *

Hagfish, according to fossil records, have existed for over 300 million years. They are often called slime eels because of the slimy substance they produce, with the purpose of damaging the gills of predatory fish. As a result, hagfish have no natural enemies. The Coelacanth is the most famous "living fossil". It was supposed to have become extinct in the Cretaceous period, along with the dinosaurs, until a live specimen was caught in South Africa in the late 1930s. Since then, more coelacanths have been seen and photographed. A second coelacanth species was found in Indonesia in 1999. Coelacanths can be up to 2 meters long and feed on smaller fish, in deep, dark waters. Did you know? Have you heard of other prehistoric animals that are still alive? *

Research findings support the belief that a number of animals laugh when tickled! Scientists believe that nonhuman primates not only laugh but also have a sense of humor. Koko was a famous gorilla in California who learned more than two thousand words and one thousand American Sign Language signs, and demonstrated the ability to use different meanings of the same word. When asked about things she thought were hard, she signed, "rock" and "work"! She also tied her trainer's shoelaces together before signing "chase" and turning to walk away! What do you think?

2 Pair Work

Discuss the points raised at the end of each text. Express your ideas and agree or disagree. Use language you know and phrases from the box.

Expressing personal views/Making objective comments

I'm not sure I'd feel comfortable using a gadget that makes so much noise in public...

I don't think I would, but I am sure many people would.

It sounds like a good idea, but there should be some restrictions ...

A lot of people will object to it, although it appears to solve ...

I'd have to do some research but I'm sure there are more ...

It's hard to believe but one has to accept that ...

3 Conversation

Presenter: We're at the edge of the desert, waiting for the falcon hunters to arrive. And here they come... I thought their car was white... This must be them. They must have been on the road longer than expected ... Welcome back. It's great to see you again Mr. Ali.

Mr. Ali: Thank you. Good to see you too! I wasn't sure you'd be here.

Presenter: Of course I'm here. I can't wait to hear about your exploits. Have you had a successful hunt?

Mr. Ali: Have we, indeed! We have been more fortunate than we could have ever expected. This has been the best trip ever! I wish we could have gone on for another two weeks!

Presenter: But you must be exhausted! And you must have been in the sun a lot..

Mr. Ali: You can tell, can't you? Oh, well, we must be looking the part. What can you expect after weeks of camping in the desert, but that's the way we like it!

Presenter: And, now? What's next?

Mr. Ali: Now, we are going to see our clients. My falcons are spoken for, so I won't have to look around for buyers. This is also important in our business...having good clients and keeping them happy! And of course, we're going to have our truck cleaned and serviced before we do anything else!

Presenter: Do you think of the financial gain while you're hunting?

Mr. Ali: No, not really. I only think of the hunt. You can't catch falcons if all you think about is how you are going to sell them. Falcons deserve respect and admiration! I often feel we have the best of both worlds; making a decent living while doing something we genuinely enjoy. There can't be too many people who can claim that!

Presenter: You're quite right! I wish you continuing success in your endeavor and hope to catch up with you next year.

Mr. Ali: You're very welcome. It's really good to have the opportunity to talk about our trade and know that more people will hear about it.

9 Laugh Out Loud

1 Listen and Discuss

1. What TV show or comedian makes you laugh the most? Why?
2. What is the funniest joke you know?
3. What do you think makes a joke funny?

A family of mice were being chased by a cat. The scared mice were cornered when the father mouse turned around and barked "Ruff! Ruff! Ruff!" The surprised cat ran away. When one of the young mice said, "Nice going, Dad," the father mouse replied, "You see son, it pays to be bilingual!"

A student with a parrot on his shoulder leaves a lecture theater. Another student follows him. He stops him and says, "I'm sorry to bother you, but I have to say, I was astonished by your parrot's remarkable reaction to the lecture on ancient history. He seemed frightened at the frightening parts, sad at the depressing parts, fascinated at the interesting parts, and amused at the funny parts. I could have sworn, I even heard it laugh. I have to say, I was amazed. Don't you find it surprising?" "Yes," he replies, "I was very surprised. He hated the class!"

A truck driver is driving a truckload of penguins to the zoo in the next town, when his truck breaks down. While he's working on the truck, another truck driver stops and asks if he needs help. The first truck driver says, "If I gave you $100, would you take these penguins to the zoo?" The second trucker agrees to do it. Hours later, the truck driver is still trying to fix his truck when the second truck driver drives past with all of the penguins still in his truck. The puzzled first truck driver says, "Didn't you take them to the zoo?" The second truck driver says, "Yes, we went to the zoo, and there was money left over. So now we're going to a restaurant."

A grasshopper, a snail, and a centipede are relaxing in the grasshopper's house, when they realize that they are getting hungry. They decide that one of them should go out for a pizza. The snail says, "I'd go, but I'm kind of slow." The grasshopper says, "I don't mind going, but my hopping will shake the pizza and mess it up." So they decide to send the centipede. The snail and grasshopper wait and wait. The longer they wait, the hungrier they get. Finally, when an hour passes and the centipede still hasn't returned, the irritated snail and grasshopper decide to go look for him. They get as far as the front door where they find the centipede sitting there putting on his shoes.

2 Pair Work

Think of a joke you know that involves two people. With your partner, write the joke as a role-play and perform it for the class.

3 Grammar Past and Present Participial Adjectives

The past participle and the present participle forms of a verb can be used as adjectives.

Past participles generally end in -ed (but can also end in -d, -t, -en, or -n) and describe how someone feels.

The mice were frightened of the cat.

Present participles always end in -ing and describe what causes the feeling.

The cat was frightening.

Participial adjectives can appear after be or in front of nouns.

My grandfather's stories about his childhood are amusing.

My grandfather tells amusing stories about his childhood.

Get + Adjective; Get + Past Participle

Get before an adjective or past participle suggests that something is changing or starting to happen.

Get can be followed by an adjective.

The grasshopper and the snail got impatient waiting for the centipede.

It's almost time for me to give my presentation. I am getting nervous.

Get can also be followed by a past participle which functions as an adjective.

You should put on sunscreen. You're getting sunburned.

My mother gets worried if I'm not home by 10:00.

The...the Comparatives

The...the is used with two comparatives to say that the first thing has an effect on the second.

The longer the telephone call, the bigger the telephone bill.

The funnier the joke, the harder the audience laughs.

The more I get to know my classmates, the better I like them.

A. Complete the sentences with the present or past participle of the verb in parentheses.

4 Conversation

- Charlie: Hi Hashim. How are you doing?
- Hashim: Oh. I don't know. To tell you the truth, I'm feeling a bit down. I think the weather is getting to me. I'm tired of all this rain.
- Charlie: You know what you need to cheer you up? A few good laughs. I've got a couple of killer jokes for you.
- Hashim: I don't know, Charlie. I'm not a big fan of jokes.
- Charlie: Just listen. Here's a good one. A cowboy rides into town on Sunday, stays for three days, and leaves on Sunday. How is this possible?
- Hashim: I don't know. How?
- Charlie: Because his horse's name is "Sunday"! Well, what's the matter? Don't you get it?
- Hashim: Yeah. I get it. Though it didn't exactly blow me away.
- Charlie: How about this one. Why is six afraid of seven? Because seven ate nine. Get it? "Ate" like the number "eight"?
- Hashim: Yeah, I get it. I just don't think it's funny. But, I do feel better.
- Charlie: If you didn't think they were funny, why do you feel better?
- Hashim: Because you're trying to cheer me up. You're a good friend, Charlie—even if you do tell terrible jokes.
- Charlie: No, I don't! Hey, did you hear the one about...

Real Talk

8 Reading

Before Reading

1. What do you think each Hadith means? Discuss your thoughts in class.
2. Read the passage and underline important details about laughter.

Islam encourages smiling and moderate laughter.

For example, the following two Hadith indicate the virtue of smiling in Islam:

“Your smiling in the face of your brother is a charitable act.”
(Aladab Almufrad, 891)

“Don’t consider anything insignificant out of good things even if it is that you meet your brother with a cheerful face.”
(Sahih Muslim, 2626)

Laughter Really Is The Best Medicine

Are you feeling run-down? Stressed? Do you get sick easily? The solution to your problems may be surprisingly simple: Try laughing. Countless research studies have shown the amazing number of ways that laughter positively impacts both our mind and body.

Laughter has an immediate beneficial effect on our mood and sense of well-being. Generally speaking, the harder you laugh, the better you feel. But why is this? Research has found that laughter offers some of the same benefits as exercise. When you laugh, that laughter stretches, tones, and strengthens muscles in your face and body. It increases your heart rate and causes you to breathe faster, which increases oxygen levels in your body. According to William F. Fry, M.D., Associate Professor of Clinical Psychiatry at Stanford University, “Laughing 100–200 times per day is the cardiovascular equivalent of rowing for 10 minutes.”

One study even found that laughter can help people lose weight. Researchers discovered that laughing out loud for 10–15 minutes a day can burn up to 50 calories. However, this certainly doesn’t mean you should give up a visit to the gym for a hearty laugh. At the rate of 200 calories per hour, it would take over 17 hours of non-stop laughter to lose a single pound (450 grams)!

People who laugh often have other physical advantages as well. They tend to have lower blood pressure and lower stress levels. They tend to get sick less often because laughter has been shown to increase infection-fighting antibodies. Laughter has also been found to help fight disease and to help people recover from illness. This has led many hospitals to create programs designed to make patients laugh. For example, it is quite common to see a red-nosed clown joking with young patients in the pediatric ward. Hundreds of hospitals also provide patients with “humor carts,” loaded with humorous cartoons, DVDs, comic books, and funny props.

Laughter has also been found to make people alert, stimulate the brain, and enhance learning. It also helps people to be more productive, to communicate more effectively, to sleep more soundly, and to form friendships more easily. In the mid-1990s, a doctor from India was struck by these benefits and brainstormed a way to bring more laughter into his patients’ lives. The doctor, Madan Kataria, gathered a group of people together in a local park to practice laughing as part of a “laughter club.” During the club meetings, Kataria would prompt members to laugh in a variety of ways.

For example, he would tell them to greet one another with a laugh, or to laugh like a lion. Although Kataria discovered that fake laughter produces the same health benefits as genuine laughter, he was gratified to find that it usually didn't take long for fake laughter to turn into real laughter.

This idea of laughter clubs has been extremely successful. There are now more than 8,000 laughter clubs in 60 different countries. It seems laughter is indeed infectious! Now that you know the health benefits of laughter, think about ways you could bring more laughter into your life. Whether you go to comedy clubs, joke with a friend, or watch more comedies, your mind and body will soon be enjoying the many benefits of a good laugh.

10 Writing

A. What is a sitcom?

1. Read the text and find out about sitcoms.
2. Think of sitcoms you have watched. Do you enjoy watching them? Why? Why not?
3. Who are your favorite characters? Why?

A sitcom is a situation comedy without an ending. It consists of episodes, but the situation goes on. The television sitcom was born in the 1940s and 1950s. It had originally existed as a radio show that listeners would tune into every week to spend some time with familiar characters they grew to know and liked.

When television arrived in the late 1940s, shows were filmed in front of a live studio audience, with three cameras recording everything for later editing. In the 60s sitcoms combined fantasy with comedy and used a laugh track instead of a live studio audience. In the 70s social issues were included, but in the 80s there was a return to the original family concept, the most important success factor behind sitcoms.

Nowadays, shows are filmed with a single camera, on location or on studio sets, with no laugh track or live audience.

4. Read the excerpt of the sample script below and find out:
 - Who the main characters are.
 - What has happened.

ACT ONE Scene One, Int. Living Room — Morning (Day 1) (Bill, Kevin)

KEVIN RUNS INTO THE LIVING ROOM WEARING HIS TRACKSUIT AND NOTICES A LETTER ON THE TABLE NEAR THE DOOR. AS HE TRIES TO OPEN IT, BILL WALKS IN WITH A FUNNY LOOK ON HIS FACE, POINTING TO THE LETTER.

KEVIN (excited)

Look! I got it! I'm a university student!

BILL (at a loss attempting to stop him)

But, but...

KEVIN RUSHES OUT THE DOOR, HOLDING THE ENVELOPE AS BITS OF CONFETTI START FALLING OUT MARKING HIS TRAIL; BILL STANDS AT THE DOOR SHAKING HIS HEAD. HE IS HOLDING ANOTHER LETTER IN HIS HAND.

BILL

Ahhhh Kevin, you never stop. That letter...

It was an advertisement...

Scene Two, Ext. School Yard — Twenty Minutes Later (Kevin)

KEVIN IS RUNNING AROUND THE SCHOOL TRAILING CONFETTI...

- B. Scene Two: Kevin receives the following messages on his voicemail. Read the messages and say who has left the message and why. Discuss how Kevin will feel when he reads them.
1. Hi Kevin. This is Dad. Your brother has told us the wonderful news! Congratulations, son. We are very proud of you.
 2. Hi Kevin. This is your bro, Bob. Well done. Do you want my help with moving your things? Call me.
 3. Hello Kevin. This is Mr. Jackson from university admissions. Unfortunately, we don't have any record of an offer of a university place for you. Please could you call us at: 234-7684 ext. 43. Thank you.
- C. Scene Three: Bill has left a message for Kevin at home. Read the message and explain why Bill has left the message. How does Bill feel? In pairs, write the voicemail message Kevin leaves for Mr. Jackson explaining the situation.

*Hi Kevin,
 You ran out of the door so quickly that I didn't have a chance to explain. That letter was not from the university offering you a place. It was an advertisement! I'm really sorry I know how much you want to go to that college. Anyway, Mr. Jackson called and said they don't know who you are so you had better call and explain the situation. I'll be back at 6 p.m.
 See you later.
 Bill*

- D. How will the episode end? Work with a partner and make notes. Write a short description of the final scene.

Notes about the final scene:

Writing Corner

When writing a sitcom:

- brainstorm ideas about funny scenes that you have experienced, heard about, or seen.
- identify what makes them funny.
- research and read scripts from sitcoms you know to get ideas.
- picture each scene and write a draft description.
- focus on the characters and list their characteristics (if possible draw them).
- outline the events in the episode.
- go back and edit, replace, or add to your material.
- give it to someone else to read before you finalize it.

11 Form, Meaning and Function

Expressing Wishes, Regret and Criticism

Verb: Wish

Use wish for things that happened in the past that you now regret.

in the past I didn't see the TV comedian. I wish I had seen the TV comedian. Everyone thought he was so funny!
 I couldn't get the joke. I wish I had been able to get the joke. I need to improve my English.
 I switched off before the end of the TV show. I wish I hadn't switched off before the end of the TV show. The ending was supposed to be very good.

Use wish and if only for things you want to happen now or in the future but which you know probably won't happen.

in the present I am not a big fan of his jokes. I wish I found his jokes funny.
 I feel down today. I wish I didn't feel down today. I wish I could cheer up.
 The comedian can't make people laugh. The comedian wishes he could make people laugh.

in the future He won't lend me his car. I wish he would lend me his car.
 My brother will leave for college soon. If only he would stay.

Expressing Criticism

Use wish or if only with would to express irritation or annoyance with a situation or the particular action of someone else.

I wish he wouldn't use his cell phone in class. I wish the children would stop interrupting.

Note: Use if only ... in the place of wish to express a wish, regret or criticism more emphatically: If only it would stop raining, I wouldn't feel so depressed!

A. Use the verb wish to complete the sentences. In some cases, more than one answer is possible.

 Your best friend is a wonderful person, but he/she talks too much.
 I wish that my best friend didn't talk so much/wouldn't talk so much.

- I feel down. I think the weather is getting to me. It is so cold and wet.
 I wish _____.
- He is stressed and run-down. He gets sick easily.
 He wishes _____.
- Your parents won't let you go out tomorrow night.
 I wish my parents _____.
- You borrowed your brother's cell phone without asking for permission. Now he's angry.
 I wish _____.
- They won't stop laughing. It's annoying me.
 I wish _____.
- You want to buy someone a present, but you don't have enough money.
 If only I _____.
- Everyone watched the TV sitcom last night. They are all talking about it today. You didn't watch it.
 I wish _____.
-  The clown was not funny. The children didn't laugh at his jokes.
 If only _____.

Such...That / So...That

Such and so make the meaning of an adjective or adverb stronger. Such...that and so...that are used to show cause and effect.

such + adjective + noun + that

The new TV sitcom is such a funny show that everyone in my class watches it.

so + adjective or adverb + that

The comedian was so amusing that he had everyone in stitches.

We laughed so much that we had tears in our eyes.

Can't, Could, Couldn't, Must, May, or Might

Use can't, must, may, or might to make suppositions, to speculate about something, and to draw conclusions. Use must to say we are sure of something. Use can't or couldn't to say that we think something is impossible. Use may, might, or could to say that something is possible.

The story about the green aliens can't be true. It might be a prank. It must be April 1st! (present)

The story about the green aliens can't have been true. It might have been a prank. It must have been April 1st! (past)

B. Match the sentences. Then use these ideas to write one sentence with so...that or such...that.

💡 I'm having such a good time that I don't want to go home.

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1. ___ I'm having a good time. | a. My mouth burned for half an hour after eating it. |
| 2. ___ The food was spicy. | b. We've had to build a shelf to put them on. |
| 3. ___ Emma is a popular name. | c. They only accept one student for every 100 applications. |
| 4. ___ The school is selective. | d. I don't want to go home. |
| 5. ___ The company received many complaints. | e. We'll never be able to finish it all. |
| 6. ___ My brother has won many sports trophies. | f. There are four girls in the class with that name. |
| 7. ___ You have made a big meal. | g. They had to recall the product. |

C. Write sentences to speculate about the situations. Use can't, could, couldn't, must, may or might in your sentences.

💡 The boys look worried. They must have smashed the window.

boys / worried

1. fans / happy

2. Nawal / angry

3. parents / sad

4. officer / surprised

2. Are you careful about the kinds of foods you eat? Why or why not?
3. What do you think the expression you are what you eat means? Do you agree?

FOOD MYTHS

Circle True or False. Then read and check your answers.

- 1 Many Japanese restaurants serve a kind of fish that can kill diners within hours if it is not prepared properly.
- 2 Eating chocolate has been linked to an increase in heart disease.
- 3 Fresh vegetables are healthier than frozen vegetables.
- 4 Apples, potatoes, and onions all taste the same when eaten while holding your nose.
- 5 Red dye produced from grinding up insects is used in many food items.

1 Blowfish, which are considered a delicacy in Japan, contain deadly toxins. If not properly prepared, eating blowfish can lead to death by poisoning. Victims usually die within 4 to 24 hours of consuming the fish. Blowfish diners count on specially licensed chefs to prepare the fish safely.

2 A number of studies have shown that chocolate consumption may reduce the risk of developing heart disease and cancer. Scientists believe that antioxidants reduce the chances of developing these diseases. Antioxidants are also thought to enhance blood flow and help maintain healthy cholesterol levels. Dark chocolate and cocoa powder are particularly rich sources of antioxidants. In fact, ounce for ounce, dark chocolate and cocoa have more antioxidants than antioxidant-rich foods like blueberries and green tea. Of course, it's not good to eat too much chocolate, but it's not a good idea to cut chocolate out altogether, either.

3 Frozen vegetables are at least as nutritious as fresh vegetables, and may sometimes actually be healthier. Fresh vegetables are at their nutritional peak at the moment they are picked. However, they often spend days or weeks in transit, in the produce aisle, and in your refrigerator. Over time, vegetables lose vitamins and minerals. However, frozen vegetables are picked and frozen at their peak. Freezing locks the vitamins and minerals in. When you do buy fresh vegetables, try to pick out ones that seem fresh and have been grown locally.

4 Up to eighty percent of taste comes not from our taste buds, but from our sense of smell. Taste buds allow us to identify bitter, salty, sweet, and sour flavors. But we depend on the smell of foods to give us most of our sense of flavor. So without smelling the aroma of a food, it is difficult to distinguish one flavor from another. (Incidentally, this is why food loses its flavor when you have a stuffed-up nose!)

5 Many food items with a deep red color, including fruit juices, candies, and gelatin, include a dye called cochineal or carmine. This dye comes from the shells of the female cochineal insect, which is found in South and Central America. The dye has been used for centuries and dates back to the Aztecs.

B. Comprehension. Answer true or false.

- _____ Victims of blowfish poisoning suffer months of illness before they die.
- _____ Antioxidants can help prevent the development of heart disease.
- _____ Blueberries are the food richest in antioxidants.
- _____ Fresh vegetables are at their nutritional peak when they are cooked.
- _____ Our taste buds are responsible for only 20 percent of what we think of as taste.
- _____ Cochineal has only been used as a dye for the last few decades.

2 Pair Work

With a partner, write three more true/false statements about food. Read them to your classmates and ask if they are true or false.

3 Grammar

Phrasal Verbs

A phrasal verb is made up of a verb + a particle. A particle is a word that is used as an adverb or a preposition. The particle gives the verb a different meaning. One verb can be combined with different particles to create different meanings.

- Didn't you like the dinner? You only picked at it. (pick at = eat without enthusiasm)
 My sister picks on me for being a vegetarian. (pick on = tease)
 We need to pick out a restaurant for the celebration. (pick out = choose)
 Will you pick up a gallon of milk on your way home? (pick up = get, buy)

Separable and Nonseparable Phrasal Verbs

Some phrasal verbs are nonseparable. The noun or pronoun always follows the particle.

- I ran into Reema at the supermarket. (NOT: I ran Reema into at the supermarket.)
 I ran into her. (NOT: I ran her into.)

- | | | | |
|-------------|-----------|-----------|----------|
| call for | come from | look into | tire of |
| come across | go on | run into | turn out |

Many phrasal verbs are separable. A noun object can come after the particle.

- The chef cut up the steak into small pieces.

A noun object can come in between the verb and the particle.

- The chef cut the steak up into small pieces.

If a pronoun object is used, it must come between the verb and the particle.

- The chef cut it up into small pieces. (NOT: The chef cut up it into small pieces.)

- | | | | |
|------------|-----------|------------|-----------|
| burn off | point out | talk over | turn down |
| cut up | put on | tell apart | turn into |
| figure out | send back | think over | wake up |
| fit in | take off | throw away | whip up |
| give up | take out | throw out | |

Three-Word Phrasal Verbs

Three-word phrasal verbs consist of a verb + a particle + a preposition. Three-word phrasal verbs are nonseparable. The noun or pronoun always comes after the phrasal verb.

- The doctor says you must cut down on sugar. (NOT: You must cut sugar down on.)

- | | | | |
|----------------|---------------|----------------|-----------------|
| catch up on | drop out of | get along with | look forward to |
| come down with | feel up to | get rid of | make do with |
| come up with | get away with | load up on | run out of |
| cut down on | get down to | look down on | take care of |

- A. Complete the sentences with a particle from the box. Some of the particles can be used more than once.

for into off on out over up

My sister has gone (1) _____ too many crazy diets. Last month, she was on a diet that called (2) _____ her to eat almost nothing but grapefruit all day. Initially, the diets seem to work. They take weight (3) _____ quickly. But a few weeks later my sister always seems to put the weight (4) _____ again. And the diets were making her tired and weak. I pointed this (5) _____ to her last week and we talked (6) _____ my concerns. I asked her to figure (7) _____ a better way of losing weight. She thought it (8) _____ and agreed to give (9) _____ the crazy diets. She's going to look (10) _____ more sensible diets, and she's going to try to burn (11) _____ calories with more exercise.

- B. Rewrite each sentence with a pronoun. Then circle S if the phrasal verb is separable or NS if it is nonseparable.

💡 We came across a great recipe.

We came across it. S NS

- | | | |
|--|---|----|
| 1. I'm going to send back this food. | S | NS |

- C. Complete the three-word phrasal verbs.

💡 I don't feel up to going out to dinner tonight.

- He ran to the supermarket because we ran _____ milk.
- These shoes are old. I think I'll get _____ them.
- She has heart problems. Her doctor told her to cut _____ fatty foods.
- They came _____ food poisoning after they ate the spoiled meat.
- Marathon runners often load _____ pasta the night before a race.
- We're looking _____ trying the new Indian restaurant.

4 Conversation

- Nawal: Thank you so much for this wonderful meal! It must've taken all day to make such a phenomenal spread.
- Fadwa: My pleasure. It was no hassle at all. I whipped it up in no time.
- Nawal: You are quite the cook. I don't think I've ever had such a gourmet meal.
- Fadwa: I'm so glad you're enjoying it. Can I give you some more of the chicken?
- Nawal: Oh, no thanks. I'm absolutely stuffed.
- Fadwa: Would you like to try the grilled asparagus?
- Nawal: No, really, I couldn't possibly eat more.
- Fadwa: Are you sure?
- Nawal: Absolutely. Honestly, I couldn't eat another bite.
- Fadwa: Oh, that's a shame. I made two different desserts. One is a chocolate raspberry layer cake and the other is almond crème brûlée.
- Nawal: Did you say chocolate raspberry cake? Come to think of it, it's rude to turn down food, right? I'm sure I could fit in a bit of that. And maybe I'll have a bite of crème brûlée as well. I have a sweet tooth, you know.

Real Talk

- spread = an abundant meal laid out on a table
- whipped it up = made it quickly and easily
- in no time = very quickly

8 Reading

Before Reading

Read the article and underline the information that tells you how certain popular foods were discovered.

Accidental Food Discoveries

Can you imagine a world without cool, creamy ice-cream cones? Isn't it depressing to imagine life without chewy, delicious, chocolate chip cookies? And who could get by without salty, addictive, crispy potato chips? Yet all these treats are fairly recent inventions that may never have come into existence if it weren't for lucky accidents.

Have you ever enjoyed the cool refreshment of a popsicle on a hot summer day? If so, you have an 11-year-old boy named Frank Epperson to thank. One winter day in 1905, young Epperson was making soda pop by mixing powdered soda and water. He accidentally left the mixing bucket outside with the mixing stick in it overnight. That night, the temperature reached freezing. In the morning, Epperson discovered that the fruit-flavored liquid had frozen to the stick. Although he tried and liked his invention, it wasn't until eighteen years later that it occurred to him to turn his invention into a business. Epperson's children referred to this treat made by their pop as a popsicle. That name stuck and eventually became the official name. Today, popsicles are enjoyed by millions of people around the world.

But, perhaps your dessert of choice on a hot day is an ice-cream cone. If so, you should be glad for the unexpected event that brought two men together at the 1904 St. Louis World's Fair. An ice-cream vendor named Charles Menches was doing such booming business that he ran out of bowls to put the ice cream in. The vendor next to Menches was a young Syrian immigrant named Ernest Hamwi. Hamwi was selling a Syrian treat called zalabia, a crisp, wafer-like pastry. Hamwi came up with a solution to Menches' quandary. Hamwi rolled some of his warm pastry into a cone so that Menches could put ice cream inside. In that instant, a favorite international hot weather treat was born.

Of course, not everyone is a fan of frozen treats. Some prefer the indulgence of delicious freshly baked goods, like chocolate chip cookies. These people should be grateful for an accidental discovery made by an American housewife in 1930. One day Ruth Wakefield was making chocolate cookies when she realized that she had run out of baker's chocolate. Wakefield decided to substitute broken-up pieces of a chocolate bar she had on hand. She assumed that the small pieces of chocolate would melt and mix into the batter. However, after taking the cookies out of the oven, Wakefield discovered that the chocolate hadn't melted. Instead, there were little chips of chocolate throughout the cookie. Much to Wakefield's delight, the chocolate chip cookie proved to be a great success with her family and guests. Wakefield sold the recipe to the chocolate company Nestlé® in exchange for a lifetime supply of chocolate chips. It wasn't long before the chocolate chip cookie became a world-famous treat.

But, if crunchy, salty treats like potato chips are your preference, then you owe a debt of gratitude to a cranky chef and a picky diner who lived over 150 years ago. On August 24, 1853, George Crum was working as a chef in a restaurant when he became frustrated with a customer. The customer had repeatedly sent back his French fries, complaining that they were too thick and soggy. Fed up, Crum decided to teach him a lesson. Crum sliced the potatoes as thinly as possible and fried them in grease. To Crum's astonishment, the customer thought the chips were delectable. They became a regular item on the restaurant's menu and, in time, became a staple of the global fast food industry.

Clearly not all accidents are bad. Some have made our lives richer, sweeter, and tastier!

After Reading

Answer the questions.

1. In your own words, explain how popsicles were invented.
2. Where was the ice-cream cone invented?
3. How did Syrian culture contribute to the invention of the ice-cream cone?
4. What did Ruth Wakefield get from Nestlé® in exchange for her recipe?
5. Why did George Crum originally create the potato chip?

9 Speaking

1. Work in pairs or groups. Make a list of desserts and snacks that are popular and try to decide what makes them popular, i.e. texture, flavor, aroma, presentation, ingredients, etc.
2. Think about a new dessert or snack and make notes in the chart. Use your notes to present your dessert/snack in class.
3. Choose what you think is the best new dessert/snack and say why you think it's the best.

 2. Would you have felt differently? How would you have reacted in each case?

Too Much Seafood

A few years ago, we were at a famous seafood restaurant. A friend of ours went overboard and proceeded to order almost everything on the menu. Soon, immense amounts of seafood started arriving on large platters. We ended up with a feast that could have fed twenty starving people, not six. It was all delicious but there was too much of it. Three of the group were determined to clear everything, so they continued gobbling down fish, seafood, salad, French fries, anything that was still on the table.

Three hours later, we split an exorbitant check among us and walked back to our hotel, feeling unpleasantly full. As expected, we all got sick. Our extravagant friend, who had eaten most of what he had ordered, was taken to the hospital. The rest of us were given strict orders to only consume liquids and stay in bed for the rest of our stay.

Pepper Sauce and Truffle

I was flying back home from France. I had been given a first class seat because the plane was overbooked and my seat had been given to someone else. I did not, of course, mind the change one bit.

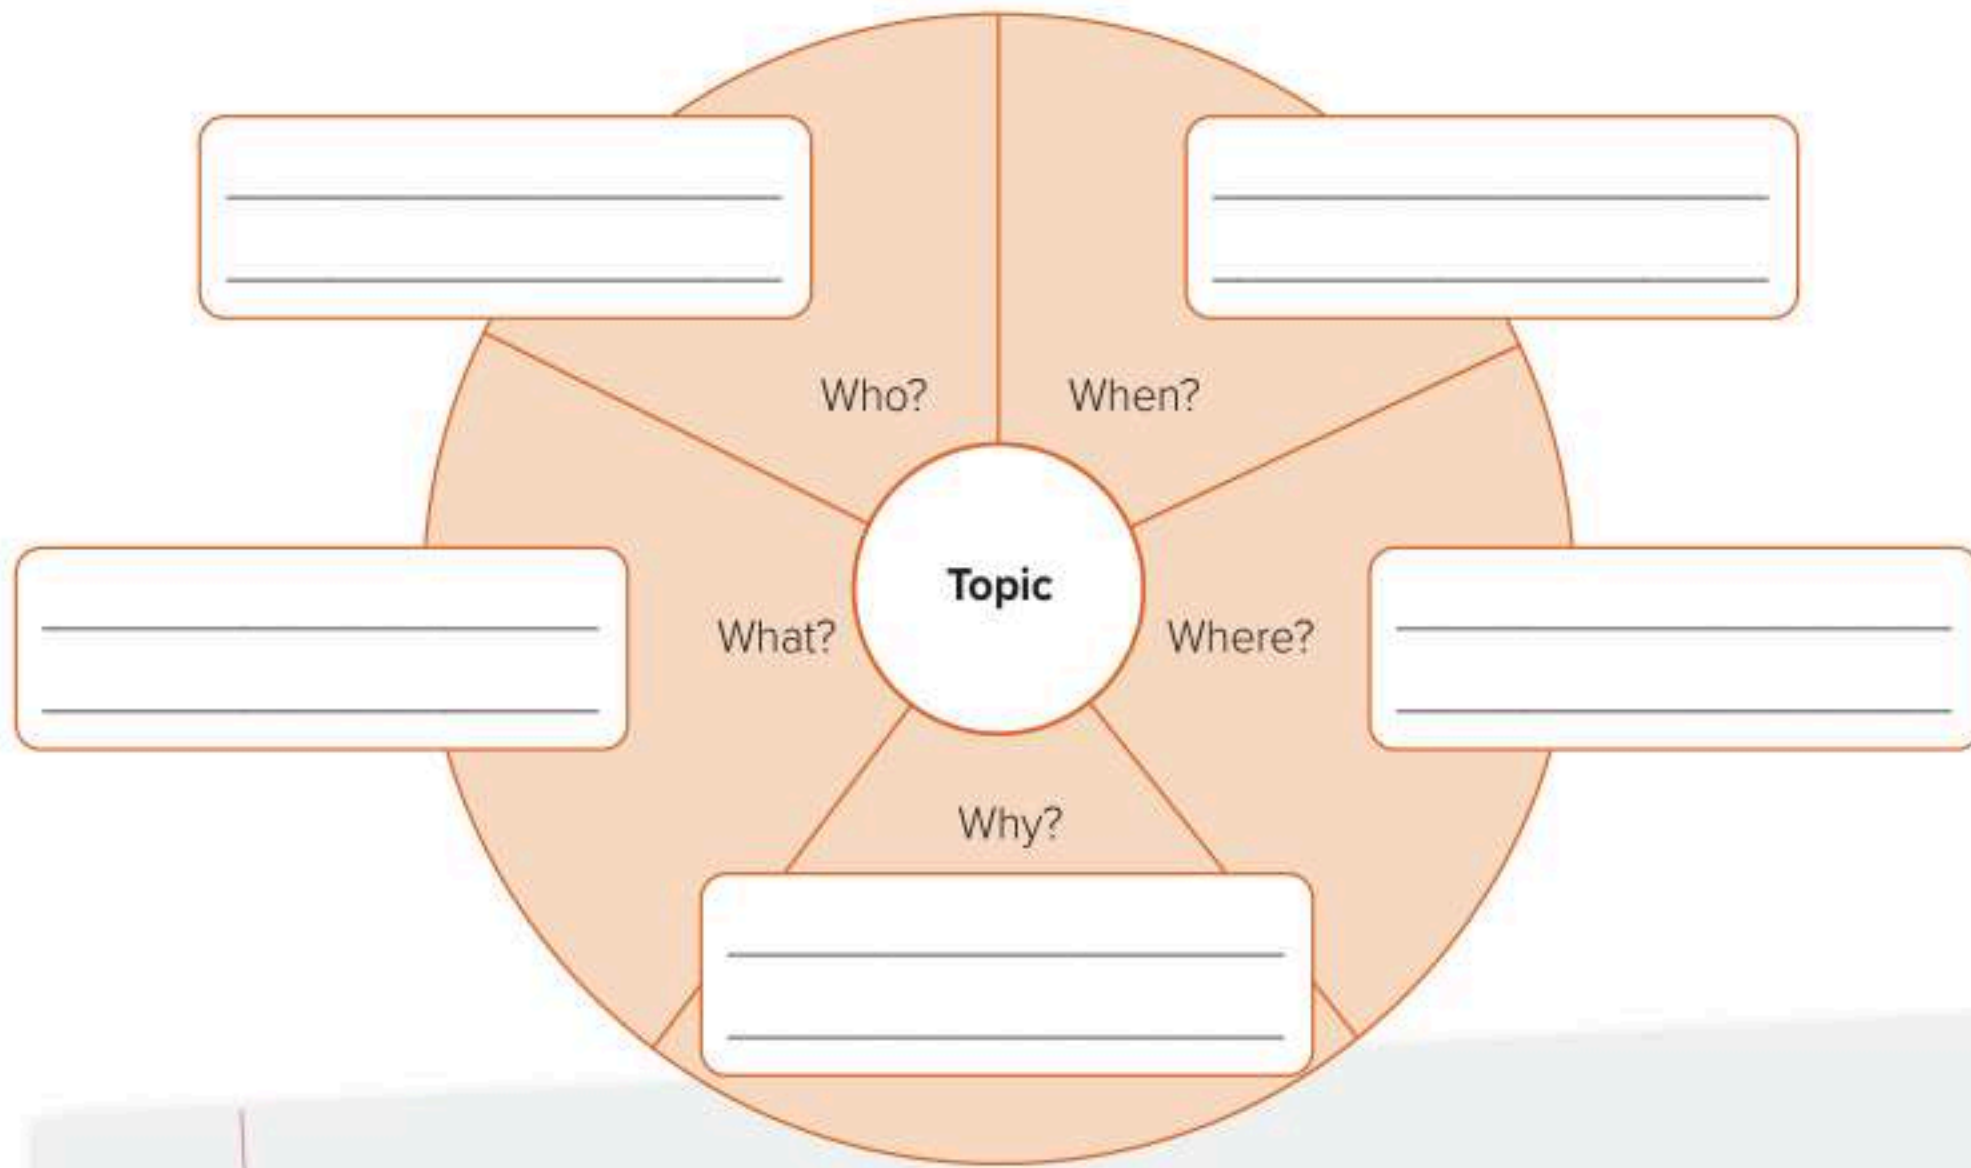

I had been traveling on a very tight student budget, and had been trying to cut down on expenses, so I tended to skip meals quite often. After the plane took off, I realized that I was famished. Appetizing smells wafting my way from the galley did nothing to reduce my hunger. Fortunately, we were served very soon. I tasted the food and was truly amazed. It consisted of the most succulent, tastiest bon filet in pepper sauce that I had ever had. It was served with truffles and baked baby potatoes with herbs. The pepper sauce was delicious as were the truffles. I decided that I rather liked flying first class!

3. Read through the texts and find the words or phrases. Can you think of other words or phrases that you could use instead? Look them up in your dictionary and compare in class.

- B. 1. Write a description of a memorable meal you once had. It might have been a special occasion or just an ordinary meal when something special happened.
- 2. Before you write, use a graphic organizer to help you remember the details of where you were, who you were with, what you ate, when it was, and why it was special.

A Memorable Holiday Dinner

I'll never forget a meal I had during my freshman year of college. Most students went home for the holidays, but some, like me, who came from different countries, stayed on campus.

Although I had always looked forward to the big holiday dinner at home, this year I figured I would make do with a sandwich. But then I talked with a few other students who had stayed, and we came up with a plan to whip up our own holiday dinner...

Writing Corner

When writing an essay about a memorable event:

- brainstorm and picture different events/occasions/scenes.
- make notes about the picture(s) in your mind.
- think about your reader/audience and select information accordingly.
- check to make sure you would not offend anyone through your account.
- focus on the people, the setting, the events, and feelings as required to highlight the aspect you want to focus on.

11 Form, Meaning and Function

Count/Noncount Nouns

Count nouns name things that you can count: one carrot, two carrots, etc. They have singular and plural forms.

Singular Count Nouns

a burger
an egg

Plural Count Nouns

two burgers
three eggs

Noncount nouns name things that you can't count: rice, tea. They don't use a/an. They don't have plural forms. Some nouns can be count or noncount: a salad or some salad; a soup or some soup.

Expressions of Quantity: Some/Any

Use some in affirmative statements.

Use any in negative statements and in questions.

Use some/any with noncount nouns and with plural nouns.

Affirmative (+)

There is some juice.
There are some fries.

Negative (-)

There isn't any juice.
There aren't any fries.

Questions (?)

Is there any juice?
Are there any fries?

Sometimes some is used in questions for offers.

Do you want some pizza? How about some coffee?

Would Like

Use would like for preferences.

Q: What would you like?

Q: Would you like some mustard on it?

A: I'd like a steak sandwich.

A: Yes, please. / No, thank you.

A. Complete the conversation. Use some, any, order, and would like. You can use the words more than once. Then practice with a partner.

Omar: Is this Gino's Italian restaurant?

Tony: Yes, it is. This is Tony speaking. How can I help you?

11 Amazing Animals

1 Listen and Discuss

1. In what ways are animals similar to humans?
How are they different?
2. Do you think animals and humans can communicate with each other? If so, in what ways?

Punxsutawney Phil is easily the most famous groundhog in the world. Phil lives in the small U.S. town of Punxsutawney, Pennsylvania, and is cared for by the townspeople. However, every February 2nd, Phil is placed in the ground at Gobbler's Knob, where he carries on a tradition that is over 100 years old. Many people believe the length of the winter can be predicted on this day, called Groundhog Day. It is said that on this day when Phil emerges from his hole, if he sees his shadow, there will be six more weeks of winter weather. If Phil does not see his shadow, spring will arrive early. Can the duration of winter really be predicted by a groundhog? Probably not, but the town has a great time celebrating this tradition.

Koko was a famous gorilla who used human sign language. Koko was taught sign language by psychologist Penny Patterson when Koko was just a baby. Patterson was studying whether gorillas could be taught to communicate. Although the study was only supposed to last a couple of years, Patterson and Koko developed a lifelong bond and worked together ever since. Koko began by learning basic words like eat, drink, and more, and eventually learned abstract ideas such as love, jealous, and shame. It is believed that Koko could sign over 1,000 words, and that she understood about 2,000 spoken words. Koko was also famous for having pet kittens. She was always extremely gentle and affectionate with her kittens.

A mouser is a cat that is kept for the purpose of catching mice. In England, there has been a mouser at the Prime Minister's residence for centuries. The most popular of these cats was a stray named Humphrey who, in 1989, was the first cat to receive the official title "Chief Mouser to the Cabinet Office." His care cost 100 pounds and was paid from the department's budget. It was said to be far cheaper than the fees previously paid to exterminators. Humphrey, who was beloved in the UK, retired in 1997.

One day in 1969, John Rendall and Anthony Burke saw a real live lion cub in a London department store window. Feeling that a lion should not be kept this way, they bought him and took him home to live in Rendall's basement. The lion, whom they named Kristyan, is said to have been an affectionate and extremely cooperative cat who even used a giant kitty litter box. Kristyan was pampered. He was brought on drives, strolls through the neighborhood, and even to restaurants. But when Kristyan grew to almost 200 pounds (90 kilograms), it was decided that he should be released into the wild. Kristyan was brought to Africa where he adapted to life in the wild and eventually became the leader of a group of lions. A year later, Rendall and Burke traveled to Africa to say goodbye. They were warned that Kristyan would not remember them. However, when Kristyan saw his old friends, he ran towards them, stood on his back legs, and joyfully gave each of them a long and loving embrace.

2 Pair Work

Write a paragraph about an animal you know. Describe the animal and its behavior, but do not say what kind of animal it is. Exchange paragraphs with a partner. Guess what kind of animal your partner's paragraph is about.

3 Grammar

Passive Modals

Passive modals follow this structure: modal + be + past participle.

Active Modal

They will release the tiger into the wild.
The vet may cancel the cat's checkup.
You can train a parrot to talk.
You should clean the bird's cage weekly.
You have to provide fresh water every day.
You must keep your hamster in the cage.

Passive Modal

The tiger will be released into the wild.
The cat's checkup may be canceled.
Parrots can be trained to talk.
The bird's cage should be cleaned weekly.
Fresh water has to be provided every day.
Your hamster must be kept in the cage.

The Passive with Reporting Verbs

We often use the passive with reporting verbs when we want to talk about what people say or believe, but the identity of the people isn't known or isn't important.

1) It + passive reporting verb + that + clause

It is said that she is the leading expert on gorilla communication.
(People say that she is the leading expert on gorilla communication.)

It is believed that dolphins are the most intelligent of animals.
(People believe that dolphins are the most intelligent of animals.)

2) Subject + passive reporting verb + to + infinitive (or perfect infinitive)

She is said to be the leading expert on gorilla communication.
Dolphins are believed to be the most intelligent of animals.

With present tense sentences, the passive reporting verb is followed by a present infinitive.

The cat is thought to be lost.

With past tense sentences, the passive reporting verb is followed by the perfect infinitive.

The cat was thought to have been lost sometime last week.

Reporting verbs that can be used in the passive include:

believe	claim	estimate	feel	say
calculate	consider	expect	hope	think

A. Circle A if the sentence is active. Circle P if it is passive.

- | | | |
|---|----------|----------|
| 1. Young animals are often difficult to control. | A | P |
| 2. Crocodiles are believed to be related to the dinosaurs. | A | P |

| 5. Penguins can stay alive in colder weather longer than any other animal on Earth. | A | P |
| 6. Cats are said to be more independent than other pets. | A | P |
| 7. Elephants in captivity should be given pedicures to keep their feet healthy. | A | P |
| 8. It is said that animals behave strangely before an earthquake. | A | P |

B. Change each sentence from active to passive. Do not include the subject.

People will place many unwanted animals in shelters this year.

Many unwanted animals will be placed in shelters this year.

1. If possible, people should adopt cats in pairs.
2. You must vaccinate cats against diseases.
3. You should feed cats daily.
4. You can train your cat not to bite or scratch.
5. People should never allow cats indoors.
6. You can find a lot of good information about caring for cats on the Internet.
7. You mustn't separate newborn kittens from their mother.
8. You can leave your cat alone all day if it has water and food.
9. Your veterinarian will suggest an appropriate diet for your cat.

C. Rewrite each sentence using the cue provided and the passive with a reporting verb.

People estimate that cheetahs can run up to 112 kilometers per hour.

It is estimated that cheetahs can run up to 112 kilometers per hour.

1. People believe that elephants have good memories.

4 Conversation

- Sami: I'm interested in speaking to someone about horse training. A friend of mine suggested I come here.
- Omar: What kind of problems are you having with your horse?
- Sami: He's a beautiful, strong, and affectionate horse, but he's driving me crazy. He won't follow instructions. He will gallop instead of cantering, he won't turn when I need him to, and if he spots a patch of grass, he'll head straight for it and ignore me completely.
- Omar: I gather you have a young stallion. I will check the schedule and we can arrange training sessions for you and your horse. Hang in there!
- Sami: OK, but in the meantime, I really need some advice. How should I handle him when he disobeys?
- Omar: Well, I can try and give you a few tips now. You say he'll head straight for a patch of grass when he sees one. Do you let him do that when you are out riding?
- Sami: Well, sometimes. But only if I want to stop for a minute or so.
- Omar: You need to set rules and then stick with them 24/7. If you're not consistent, he's not going to learn.
- Sami: OK. But when he is all friendly and nice, it's hard not to let him do what he wants.
- Omar: Look, I'm going to get to the point. It sounds to me like your horse is calling the shots. You need to be firmer. If you train your horse not to do something then suddenly let him do it, you'll be back to the drawing board.

About the Conversation

1. What problems is Sami having with his horse?
2. What advice does Omar give him?
3. How does Sami respond to Omar's advice?

Real Talk

- Hang in there! = Don't give up!

8 Reading

Before Reading

In what ways do people benefit from animal companionship?

Animal Heroes

One night, Pilar was in a deep sleep when she was woken by her cat Inti. Inti was meowing wildly outside Pilar's bedroom and throwing himself against the closed bedroom door. When Pilar opened her eyes, she saw that her bedroom was filling with smoke. As she escaped her house with Inti in her arms, she saw that a fire was blazing in her kitchen. Pilar could easily have lost consciousness from breathing in the smoke, but Inti would not let that happen. Even though Inti could have escaped the house through a cat door, he wouldn't leave Pilar. A fireman at the scene said, "Without question, that cat is responsible for saving his owner's life. He should be honored as a hero."

As amazing as this story is, it is not as uncommon as you may think. There are countless stories of animals coming to the aid of humans in life-threatening situations. Animals are said to have a sixth sense for danger. Often they are alert to danger before humans are and have used this awareness to protect humans from harm.

Take the example of Charlotte Lee and her horse, Thunder. One warm, summer night, the whole family was asleep with the windows open. It was normally very quiet where they lived. There were only a few farm houses scattered about the area and hardly any traffic. All of a sudden, there was a loud crashing noise from the stable. Charlotte woke up with a start, and her heart pounding, as the noise continued. She was so frightened, she froze; no matter how hard she tried she could not move. The noise stopped as suddenly as it had started, and she heard a horse galloping towards the house. The next thing she saw was Thunder standing outside her window, neighing and shaking his head as he stomped on the wooden porch. She knew enough about horses to know that Thunder was disturbed for a reason, and wasted no time speculating. She quickly got everyone out of the house before the earthquake hit. Part of the roof caved in and crashed into her room. Thunder had deliberately saved her life.

Yet it is not only domesticated animals who have acted heroically. There are also stories of wild animals coming to the rescue of humans. One animal known to be a friend and protector of humans is the dolphin. Dolphins are considered to be among the most intelligent of animals. On dozens of occasions, they have used this intelligence to come to the aid of humans in dangerous situations. One such story involves a surfer named Todd Endris. Todd was surfing with his friends when he was attacked by a 13-foot (4-meter) shark. In the middle of the attack, a group of dolphins came to his rescue by forming a protective ring around Endris until he could get safely to shore. Without the help of the dolphins, there is little chance that Todd would have survived.

At times, even animals commonly considered aggressive and dangerous have come to the aid of humans. One famous case involves Binti Jua, an eight-year-old female gorilla who lives at the Brookfield Zoo in Illinois, U.S.A. Binti was celebrated as a hero when she protected a three-year-old boy who fell into the walled gorilla area. Binti picked up the unconscious boy, carefully cradled him in her arms, and brought him to the zookeeper's door so that he could be taken out. After four days in the hospital, the boy recovered completely.

No one is sure why animals have so often come to our aid. However, it is clear evidence of the deep and powerful bond between humans and animals. It is important that we respect this bond by treating animals with the care and compassion that they often show us.

After Reading

Answer the questions.

1. In what way do animals have a sixth sense?
2. What did Thunder do to protect Charlotte?
3. What reputation do dolphins have? What story demonstrates this?
4. What did dolphins do to save Todd Endris's life?
5. How was a young boy saved by a gorilla at the Brookfield Zoo?

9 Speaking

10 Writing

- A. 1. Work in pairs/groups. What do you know about dolphins? What would you like to find out about them?
- 2. Read the text and find out about:
- the origin of dolphins
 - types of dolphins and their eating habits
 - the bottlenose dolphin
 - special abilities dolphins have
 - their relationship with people
- 3. Read the text again and:
- identify the topic of each paragraph
 - find out if you can re-order paragraphs
 - decide if you like the way the text begins and ends

All About Dolphins

Dolphins are marine mammals that are claimed to have evolved from land mammals some 50 or 60 million years ago! Studies indicate that they are closely related to hippos, camels, and cows! There has been an unending debate on the exact origin of dolphins and whales that is likely to continue for years to come.

There are 32 types of dolphins that live in salt water. Dolphins eat about 20 to 25 kilos of fish per day. Their eating habits vary depending on the area and the time of year. If there is an abundance of fish, they will happily consume as much as they need. Interestingly, dolphins regulate their food intake according to the fat content of the fish available, and their hunger! In this sense, they can probably control their food intake more efficiently than humans! Did you also know that their brains weigh more than ours?

Dolphins can:

- recognize themselves in a mirror
- scan objects in the water using sonar
- sleep with one eye closed
- whistle and recognize each other by their whistles
- go to a depth of about 260 meters

There is mutual interest between dolphins and people. They are as interested in observing us as we are in them.

Dolphins love having fun, communicating, and playing. They are also keen on helping and supporting their own kind and other species that are in danger.

The bottlenose dolphin is the most studied and familiar to people, with a life expectancy of about 40 to 50 years. Bottlenose dolphins show an extraordinary connection with humans and have rescued injured divers repeatedly.

These wonderful creatures deserve our admiration and respect and need to be protected.

- 4. Did the text answer any of your questions? Which?
- 5. If you had the opportunity to edit or rewrite the text, what would you change?

- B. 1. Choose a type of animal to research and write about.
2. Use the KWL chart to gather and organize your ideas.
 - a. Write what you already know about the animal in the K ("know") column.
 - b. Write what you want to know in the W ("want to know") column. This might include the origins, diet, appearance, and/or typical characteristics of the animal.
 - c. Research these questions in your library or on the Internet. Then write what you've learned in the L ("learned") column.
3. Write your essay.

The Peregrine Falcon

I've always liked falcons. I think their speed, marksmanship, and strength are unmatched. I have particularly admired Peregrines for their speed and hunting skills, but was not sure about their origin and habitat. It wasn't until I researched these incredible hunters that I discovered they could be found anywhere in the world.

The Peregrine is the world's most widespread bird of prey. The name of the species means "wandering falcon"...

Writing Corner

When you write a descriptive essay about a species:

- try not to copy the information that you have found as it is; read it, make notes, and rephrase in your own words.
- make the description more attractive for your reader by adding personal feelings and opinions.
- notice that when referring to the animal you may repeat its name, use a pronoun, or a distinguishing feature, e.g. these incredible hunters, or refer to it through its category, e.g. this bird, these creatures, etc.
- select information that is genuinely interesting.
- share your feelings, e.g. enthusiasm, fondness, interest, etc. with your reader.

11 Form, Meaning and Function

Adjectives

Position of Adjectives

Use adjectives to describe nouns. Place adjectives either after the verb be or before a noun.

Dolphins are intelligent.

Cats are very independent.

Giant pandas may become extinct in the future.

Dolphins are intelligent animals.

Tigers are very independent animals.

Giant pandas are an endangered species.

Note: We use become to describe a changing situation.

Adjectives from Verbs and Nouns

A lot of adjectives are formed from verbs and nouns. Many adjectives are formed by adding the following suffixes: -y, -ful, -less, -ate, -al, -ive, -ous, -ic, -ed or -ing.

(noun) Health is very important.

(adjective) Keeping pets healthy is very important.

(noun) You won't get much use out of that bag.

(adjective) That bag is useless.

(noun) The tall buildings in Dubai made a big impression on the tourists.

(adjective) I felt impressed when I saw the very tall hotel.

(noun) Please take care when feeding the animals.

(adjective) Please be careful.

(noun) Young children have a lot of energy.

(adjective) Young children are very energetic.

(adjective) The tourists found the tall buildings in Dubai very impressive.

(verb) Photos of Dubai impress many people.

A. Read the sentences and write the correct form of the adjective from the word(s) given in parentheses.

1. One day in 1969, John Rendall and Anthony Burke saw a real live lion cub in a London department store window. (life)
2. The lion is said to have been an _____ and extremely _____ cat. (affection, cooperation)
3. When Kristyan saw his old friends, he ran towards them, stood on his back legs, and _____ gave each of them a long and _____ embrace. (joy, love)
4. Punxsutawney Phil is easily the most _____ groundhog in the world. (fame)
5. Elephants in captivity should be given pedicures to keep their feet _____. (health)
6. He's a _____ and strong horse. (beauty)
7. Ali owns a very _____ young horse. (energy)
8. Many true stories demonstrate that horses are _____ human companions. (loyalty)

B. Choose an animal to research and talk about. Find out about its origins, diet, appearance and characteristics. Make comparisons between your animal and other animals or breeds. Tell your partner about your animal.

All / Both / Neither / None

Use all, both, neither and none to compare two or more things, places, animals or people.

All tigers, cheetahs, leopards, and lions are big cats.

Both cheetahs and leopards are fast animals.

Neither tigers nor lions can be domesticated.

None of the big cats can be domesticated. They are all wild animals.

Both... and... / Neither... nor... / Either... or...

Both...and, neither...nor, and either...or are all paired conjunctions. They are used to link two words, phrases, or clauses of the same type. For example, nouns are linked with nouns, adjectives are linked with adjectives, and verbs are linked with verbs.

My favorite animal is either an elephant or a camel.

Both camels and elephants are intelligent animals.

When connecting two subjects with both...and, be sure to use a plural verb.

Both my father and his boss were present at the meeting.

When connecting two subjects using either...or, or neither...nor, the choice to use a singular or plural verb depends on the subject that is closer to the verb.

Neither my uncle nor my brothers want to see that documentary.

Neither my brothers nor my uncle wants to see that documentary.

- C. Read the fact boxes about two well-known personalities. Write sentences about the two people using both, neither and either. Compare with a partner.

💡 Both His Royal Highness Prince Sultan bin Salman Al Saud and Majed Ahmed Abdullah spent their childhood in Riyadh.

Neither I nor my brother have seen a better football striker than Majed Ahmed Abdullah.

His Royal Highness Prince
Sultan bin Salman Al Saud

- He was born in 1956 in Riyadh.
- He completed university and flight training in the U.S.
- He was on the Saudi Media Committee during the 1984 Olympics.
- He was the youngest person to fly on the Space Shuttle Discovery at the age of 28.
- He helped with organizations for the disabled.
- He became Secretary General of the Saudi Commission for Tourism and Antiquities.
- He became involved in preserving Saudi architectural heritage.

- He was born in Jeddah.
- He moved to Riyadh with his family when he was very young.
- Majed Ahmed Abdullah one of the best football strikers in the history of Saudi Arabia.
- He scored 4 goals against India during the 1984 Summer Olympics.
- Many newspaper articles have been written about him.

12 Project

You have been asked to select some animals for a zoo in Saudi Arabia.

1. Work in pairs/groups. Research and find out about animals that live in the Arabian Peninsula.
2. Make notes in the chart about the animals and select pictures. Find out about:
 - their natural habitat (where they normally live)
 - their eating habits
 - their enemies and friends
 - their origin
3. Prepare a poster presentation for your class.
4. Display the posters on the wall for your classmates to read after you have presented them.

	Animal 1	Animal 2	Animal 3
Scientific/common name
Country of origin
Eating habits
Enemies/friends
Space requirements
Other characteristics
Reasons for selection

5. Have a meeting in class and make a final decision about the animals that you would like to include in the zoo. Use your information to support your choice.

12 What Would You Do?

رابطه الدرس الرقمي

1 Listen and Discuss

1. What do you think the words moral and ethical mean?
2. Have you ever been tempted to do something that wasn't right? Explain.
3. Do you think in every situation there is always a clear right and wrong thing to do?

1 Dilemma

Russ is at the airport to catch a flight. He is on his way to his brother's wedding. His flight is about to leave. As he runs through the terminal to his departure gate, an elderly man suddenly slips and falls in front of him. The man cries out in pain. Russ knows that if he stopped to help the man, he would miss his flight. If he missed his flight, he would miss his brother's wedding. Russ runs past the man as if he hadn't seen him.

Would you have done what Russ did?

2 Dilemma

Mike is taking an extremely important history test. The test will determine whether he passes the class. Mike has been studying for the test day and night. He feels well prepared, but when the test is in front of him, Mike's mind goes blank. He can't remember anything. It is as if he had never studied. Sam is the best student in the class and is sitting right next to Mike. Sam's paper is close enough for Mike to see the answers. The teacher is not paying attention. Mike knows that if he copied Sam's answers, the teacher wouldn't see.

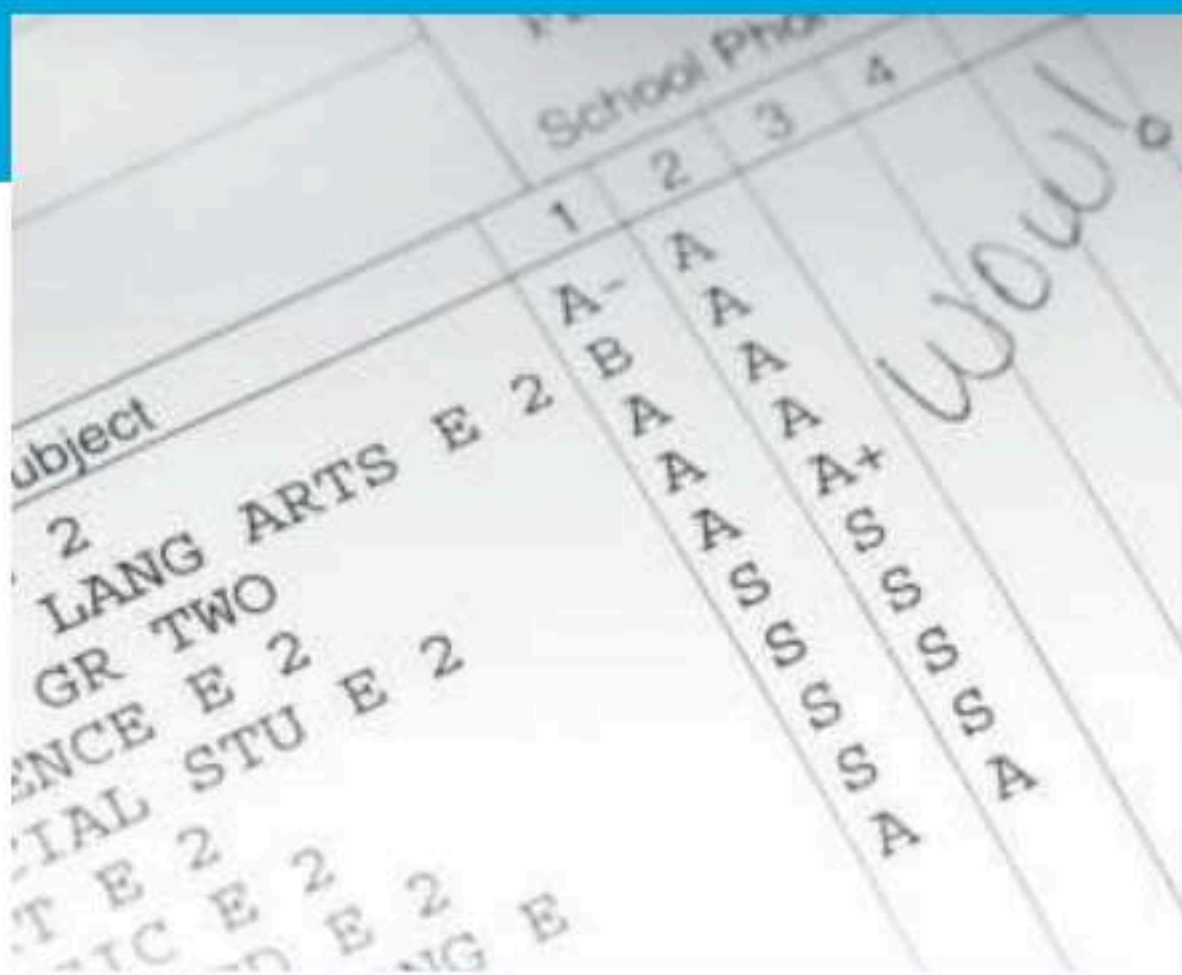

What would you do if you were Mike?

3 Dilemma

A ship strikes an iceberg and ten passengers crowd into a lifeboat that is only intended to hold nine. The lifeboat slowly starts to sink because of the extra weight. If it does, all ten passengers will die in the freezing water. The captain considers his choices and decides to force the weakest individual out of the lifeboat. He reasons that if he did nothing, everyone would drown. This way only one person drowns, and this person would have drowned anyway. Others on the lifeboat feel that this choice is morally wrong. They say that if he did nothing, then even if none of them survived, at least no one would be responsible for anyone's death.

If you were the captain, what would you do?

4 Dilemma

Mariana has struggled in science class for years. This year, to help motivate her, Mariana's parents have told her that if she receives a B on her report card, they will help her buy a cell phone. But Mariana has done poorly in the class and knows that her final grade will be a D. The day her report card is due to arrive in the mail, Mariana arrives home from school and is greeted by her parents with hugs and smiles. She takes a look at the report card and sees that her grade in science is an A. Clearly this is a mistake, but Mariana can get away with it if she doesn't say anything. The cell phone is only part of the reason that she's tempted not to say anything. She also dreads the idea of seeing the pride on her parents' faces vanish.

What would you do if you were Mariana?

"All sunshine makes the desert."

—Arabic proverb

"Ask the experienced rather than the learned."

—Arabic proverb

Quick Check ✓

A. Vocabulary. Complete each sentence with one of these words:

dread	motivate	tempted
morally	responsible	vanish

- Who is _____ for cleaning up this mess?
- My mother's cookies always _____ moments after she takes them out of the oven.
- The beautiful weather helped _____ me to go outside and get some exercise.
- People should feel that it's _____ wrong to buy stolen goods.
- I _____ taking final exams next week.
- I was _____ to watch the film on TV, but I made myself study instead.

B. Comprehension. Answer the questions.

- Why is Russ at the airport?
- What does Russ decide to do?
- What is Mike considering doing? Why?
- What is the problem on the lifeboat?
- Why is Mariana tempted to not tell the truth about her science grade?

2 Pair Work

Work with a partner to create a morally challenging situation, or a dilemma. Find out what your classmates would do in the situation.

3 Grammar

Present Hypothetical Conditionals versus Past Hypothetical Conditionals

We use present hypothetical conditionals to talk about imaginary situations. The simple past tense is used in the if-clause. Would, could, or might is used in the result clause.

If you asked me my opinion, I would tell you the truth.
If we knew where she lived, we could send her flowers.

We use past hypothetical conditionals to talk about things that did not happen in the past. They are often used to express regret or criticism. The past perfect is used in the if-clause. Would have, could have, or might have is used in the result clause.

If I had tutored him, he might have passed the test.
(But I didn't tutor him, so he didn't pass the test.)
If Audra had been honest, she would not have gotten into trouble.
(But Audra didn't tell the truth, so she did get into trouble.)

Implied Conditionals

Sometimes the if-clause is implied rather than stated directly.

We would have helped you. (if you had asked us)
I would have called the police. (if I had been there)
What would I do without you? (if you weren't here)

As If / As Though for Unreal Situations

We can use as if and as though + a past or past perfect verb to suggest that something is unreal or untrue.

He talks as if he were an expert in the field.
They act as though they had not cheated on the test.

Note: Either was or were can be used with the subjects I, he, she, or it. However, were is considered more formal and generally used in writing.

A. Rewrite each sentence as a conditional.

 My sister doesn't know what happened, so she's not mad at me.
If my sister knew what happened, she would be mad at me.

1. Ibrahim doesn't take good care of himself. That is why he gets sick so often.
2. He had an accident because he wasn't driving carefully enough.
3. I took the course because I didn't know how hard it would be.
4. He isn't my son, so I can't tell him what to do.
5. I'd like to help the poor, but I have no extra money.
6. You don't pay attention in class, so you don't understand the lessons.
7. Aisha didn't tell her parents about the problem, so they couldn't help her.
8. We didn't have time, so we didn't visit him in the hospital.

B. Write what you would do, or would have done in each situation. Use an implied conditional.

Ali uses his friend's computer and accidentally deletes an important file. He decides not to tell his friend.

What would you have done?

I would have told my friend the truth.

1. When Aisha got home from the bookstore, she realized that she hadn't been charged for one of the books she bought. She went back to the bookstore to pay for it.

What would you have done?

2. While pulling out of the supermarket parking lot, Hameed hits another car. There is a small dent on the other car. Hameed can't decide what he should do.

What would you do?

3. Fatima bought a new dress. She tries it on and asks what Maha thinks of it. Maha doesn't like it, but says she does.

What would you have done?

4. Mona's teenage daughter has seemed unhappy lately, but won't talk to Mona. Mona is worried. Her daughter accidentally leaves her journal on the couch. Mona reads it.

What would you have done?

5. Sarah brings her grandmother a nice dessert. Her grandmother tells her how delicious it is and how impressed she is that Sarah made it. Sarah bought the dessert from a store. She decides not to tell her grandmother. What would you do?

C. Use the cue words to write a new sentence with as though or as if.

Bianca is not a queen.
behaving / as if

She is behaving as if she were a queen.

1. I am not dreaming. feel / as though / be

2. We are not rich. spending money / as though

3. Asma doesn't like Sophie.
acts / as though

4. You did not see something scary.
look / as if

5. Adel is not an old man.
walks / as though

6. You don't own this house.

8. Faris needs this job.
talking / as though

9. He does not know the answer.
acting / as if

4 Conversation

Khaled: Can I talk to you about a problem I'm struggling with?

Majid: Sure. What's going on?

Khaled: Well, I've been working at a clothing store in the mall for a month now. Last week, I saw a guy I work with stuffing a shirt into his bag. When I asked him about it, he acted all innocent. Then this week, I caught him taking a pair of pants. This time he promised he wouldn't steal anything again and begged me not to tell the manager.

Majid: So what are you going to do?

Khaled: That's the problem, I don't know. If I told the manager, he would get fired.

Majid: Yeah, but now that you know about it, if you don't tell the manager, you'll be helping him get away with stealing. He's put you in a rotten position.

Khaled: I know. What do you think I should do?

Majid: The way I see it, if he's stolen twice before, he's likely to steal again. You can't trust him. Do you think he might even steal from the cash register?

Khaled: I wouldn't put it past him.

Majid: It seems to me that you may get yourself in trouble if you don't blow the whistle on him. Of course, it's your call, but if I were you, I would let the manager know.

Khaled: Yeah. You're probably right.

About the Conversation

5 Listening

Listen to the radio segment about hikers requiring rescue on Mount Hood in Oregon in the U.S. Answer true or false.

1. _____ Mount Hood is 1,300 meters high.
2. _____ Each year, 25 to 50 people require rescue on Mount Hood.
3. _____ December is one of the best times of year to hike on Mount Hood.
4. _____ Weather conditions in December are mild.
5. _____ During one rescue, rescue workers in a helicopter were killed when it crashed.
6. _____ Currently, taxpayers pay for Mount Hood rescues.

6 Pronunciation

In a sentence, content words are words with clear meanings such as nouns, verbs, adjectives, and adverbs. They are usually stressed.

Function words, like articles, auxiliary verbs, pronouns, and prepositions join content words into sentences. They are usually not stressed. Listen and practice.

1. Three experienced climbers went hiking in the middle of a snowstorm.
2. The weather conditions are favorable for hikers in May and June.
3. In December, the mountain is covered in snow and ice.
4. Temperatures can drop below freezing at this time of year.
5. Most of the Mount Hood rescue workers are volunteers.
6. There is no charge for these rescues.

7 Vocabulary Building

A. You will see these words in the reading on pages 190 and 191. Match the words with their meanings.

- | | |
|------------------------|--|
| 1. _____ genetic | a. causing disagreement |
| 2. _____ treatable | b. the possibility of being or doing something |
| 3. _____ diagnosis | c. done in order to avoid |
| 4. _____ undergo | d. received from a parent or ancestor |
| 5. _____ inherited | e. related to the part of a cell that contains your parents' characteristics |
| 6. _____ preventative | f. capable of being cured |
| 7. _____ controversial | g. identification of the cause of a problem |
| 8. _____ potential | h. experience |

B. Check your answers with a partner. If you do not understand the meaning of a word, look it up in a dictionary.

8 Reading

Before Reading

Read the article and underline all the potential diseases that can be identified using genetic testing.

Peeking into Our Medical Future

Did you know that a drop of your blood can predict diseases you may develop in the future? This is possible through genetic testing—testing that analyzes the genetic information found in the cells of your body. Each cell contains a sample of DNA. The information in DNA can help determine a person's risk of developing certain diseases years from now.

The most common type of genetic testing is called “newborn screening.” The goal of newborn screening is to identify treatable genetic disorders in newborn babies. In many countries, infants are screened in the hospital shortly after they are born. Although it is rare to find that a baby has a genetic disorder, those that do have a disorder start receiving treatment right away. This early diagnosis and treatment prevents physical and mental problems, and sometimes even death.

Another type of genetic testing is called “predictive gene testing.” This is used to predict an adult's risk of developing certain diseases later in life. People who undergo this type of genetic testing are usually from a family in which many members have had a particular inherited disease, like certain cancers or Alzheimer's disease.

There are many obvious benefits to this kind of testing. A negative test (a test that says a person is not likely to develop a disorder) can bring a tremendous sense of relief. Jen Thomson, who recently underwent predictive gene testing for colon cancer, explains, “So many people in my family died of colon cancer, I worried constantly. When the test came back negative, I felt as if someone had lifted an enormous weight off my shoulders.” A positive test has benefits as well. It warns of the need for preventative care, like frequent checkups, dietary changes, medicines, or even the option of surgically removing the part likely to develop the disease. For example, if Thomson's test had been positive, she might have chosen to have her colon removed.

There are also some controversial downsides to genetic testing. The value of genetic testing is particularly questionable when testing for a disease that is untreatable. For example, Alzheimer's disease runs in An Lee's family. An has decided to get genetic testing to see if she is likely to develop it. Her husband Bao is not happy about her choice. Bao explains, “If the result is positive, how will it help to know that she will probably develop the disease?”

If I had the Alzheimer's gene, I wouldn't want to know." Another issue is that even if someone tests positive for a disease, it doesn't mean that they will definitely develop the disease. So a person could spend years worrying about something that never ends up happening.

Genetic testing has the potential to impact millions of lives in the future. Many are excited about the future of genetics, while others have deep concerns about it. But for better or for worse, soon we may all have the ability to peek into our medical future.

After Reading

Answer true or false.

1. _____ To get a sample of DNA, doctors must draw a large quantity of blood.
2. _____ Newborn screening is not a common type of genetic testing.
3. _____ Predictive gene testing can be done for treatable and untreatable disorders.
4. _____ A positive test generally brings great relief to the test-taker.
5. _____ If someone tests positive for a disease, they will definitely develop the disease.

9 Speaking

1. Work in pairs or groups. Think about what you have read and heard about genetic testing and discuss the question below:
If you were offered genetic testing, would you do it? Why? Why not?
2. Make notes in the chart. Then use your notes to discuss your views in class.

Type of genetic testing you read/heard about	Reasons for taking the test	Reasons against taking the test	Should it be made available to everyone? Why? Why not?

10 Writing

A. How do you think people decide on a field of study or a job? Which factors affect their decision/choice?

1. Read the text and find out.

- What did the writer originally want to study?
- Why did he give up his original plan?
- Why do you think he took different training courses?
- What had he done to qualify as a language teacher?
- What other job opportunity did he have?
- What prompted him to make his final choice?

Does he regret it?

2. What would you have done?

3. Read the text again and find out.

- Are all the events presented in chronological order? How do you know?
- Which sentences/phrases/words provide information about the writer's thoughts, attitude, and feelings?
- Which part reveals the writer's position on the matter?
- Are there sections/phrases/sentences that address a longer period of time in real terms but very briefly?
- Are there sections/phrases/sentences that address a shorter period of time in real terms but in greater detail?

After I finished school, I chose to try out a number of things before settling on one field of study or profession. I had originally wanted to go to art school but had changed my mind when I found out how hard it was for graduates to find employment. I was also reluctant to go ahead with it, because I knew that my father was likely to disapprove in a quiet but very noticeable manner. He wanted me to study medicine, but I didn't.

I took a number of courses in typing, shorthand, French, art, design, and literature and worked part-time as a public relations assistant, a shop assistant, etc. Eventually, I started studying psychology, philosophy, and linguistics. I had also managed to attend a teaching methodology course that qualified me as a language teacher, but I was not at all certain that I wanted a teaching career.

At some point, I was approached by a new airline company that invited me to do an interview, followed by a test before I could be offered a job. At the time, I used to help out with registration at a large language center where my uncle taught. So, I agreed to spend the next few days working for them from morning till evening, totally forgetting the airline company. Two days later, the man I knew from the airline company turned up and accused me of being irresponsible because I had not bothered to check with the airline company on the final results and a job offer. He said there was still time to do it, but I would have to drop what I was doing and run. For some reason, I did exactly the opposite; I stayed put, thanked him and went back to work.

Later that evening, I was offered my first teaching job by the director of studies. I have often wondered what my life would have been like if I had chosen the airline company instead, but not too enthusiastically. Regardless of difficulties and ups and downs, this is the choice that has become a life's choice and no amount of wondering is likely to ever make me regret it.

- B. 1. Think of an important decision you or a family member has made.
2. Compare what your life is like now to what it would have been like if you or a family member had made a different decision. Use the chart to organize your ideas.
3. Write a personal narrative on this subject.

Life Now	How Life Would Have Been Different

A Life-Changing Decision

After I graduated from high school, I had the choice of going to a university in my hometown, or going to one far from home. I chose to go to the university far from home. Although I am happy with my choice, sometimes I feel as if I live a million miles from home. If I had chosen differently, it would have led to a very different life for me...

Writing Corner

When you write a reflective and speculative personal narrative, think about the following:

- what has already happened
- what opportunities were available and what results have taken place
- what feelings and attitudes you have experienced
- which people were involved directly or indirectly
- how to present your ideas so you can set the context clearly for your reader

Then refer to the real context and:

- reflect and/or evaluate the decision/choice you made.
- wonder/speculate how things might have been different.
- address the question to your reader.
- express satisfaction or regret about your decision/choice.

11 Form, Meaning and Function

Future Progressive

Use the future progressive (will + be + present participle) for continuous actions in the future.

Affirmative (+)

Genetic testing has the potential to impact millions of lives. Soon we will all be peeking into our medical futures.

Questions (?)

Will you be working on the weekend?

Short Answers (+)

Yes, I will.

Short Answers (-)

No, I won't.

Future Perfect

The future perfect is used to express the idea that an action will be completed in the future, before another event or before another specific time in the future. The future perfect is formed with will have + past participle.

By this time tomorrow, we will have had the medical test results back.

Time Expressions for the Future

A week from today, I'll be working in my new job.

By the year 2030, we will all have undergone genetic testing at birth.

By the time I am elderly, smart robots will have become commonplace.

A. Use the future progressive or the future perfect to complete each sentence. In some cases, both forms are possible.

 Sheri started teaching biology in 2020. By 2030, she will have been teaching biology for ten years.

1. My parents got married in 2000. By 2032, _____.
2. My brother became a vegetarian three weeks ago. By next week, _____.
3. Jasim starts his new job today. A week from now _____.
4. Some hospitals have used robots in surgery. By 2035, all _____.
5. I've already lost five kilograms on my diet. If I lose another two, _____.

B. Use the future perfect to combine the future events into one sentence, using by or by the time. Write the sentences in your notebook.

 1st Event: He will graduate from college. 2nd Event: 2033 will come.
By 2033, he will have graduated from college.

1. 1st Event: The football game will start. 2nd Event: We will arrive at the stadium.
2. 1st Event: I will fall asleep. 2nd Event: This TV show will be over.
3. 1st Event: I will pass my law exams. 2nd Event: 2029 will come.
4. 1st Event: My father will work as a medical doctor for 20 years. 2nd Event: He will retire.

Used To versus Be Used To

Used to + the base form of a verb is used to talk about an action that was repeated habitually in the past but no longer happens now; and to describe a past situation which is no longer true.

Tom didn't use to cheat on school tests. He used to be an honest person. He used to study hard. He used to be a good student.

Note: For the negative, use didn't use to (omit the -d).

Be used to + gerund or noun is used to talk about something that has become familiar or habitual.

Some people think it's crazy that he works seven days a week. But he is used to it.
Although she is a millionaire now, she isn't used to shopping in expensive stores.

Note: For the negative, use be + not + used to (do not omit the -d).

Was/Were Going To (Future in the Past)

Was/Were + going to + the base form of a verb is used to talk about a prediction for the future made in the past, or a past plan that was not carried out.

When he saw the old man fall, Russ wasn't going to stop. He was going to keep running to catch his flight.
Russ realized this was wrong, so he stopped and helped the old man.

- C. Look at the pictures. Complete the paragraph about how Fahd's life has changed since he adopted a healthy lifestyle. Use used to, be used to and was going to.

💡 A year ago, Fahd's life was very different ...

One year ago

Now

- D. Think of an important decision you or your family made in the past that has changed your life. Talk about what you used to do before the change and what you are used to doing now. Tell your partner.

💡 Before we moved to the city, I used to ...

2. Work in pairs/groups. Research and find out about ground-breaking methods of treatment applied in your country. These treatments/cures might be medicinal or involve surgical procedures.
 - interview members of your family
 - talk to your teachers
 - search the Internet
3. Gather information about new ground-breaking methods of treatment and procedures used in Saudi Arabia and make notes. The treatments or procedures might be used for preventive reasons. Find out:
 - which diseases/conditions they are used for
 - if they are successful
 - if there are side effects
 - how they can affect people's lives
 - how accessible they are
 - if they are at an initial stage
 - if additional resources/equipment is needed
 - about plans to extend their application

2 Reading

Before Reading

1. Do you think it is possible to move objects with your mind? Explain.
2. How do you think technology could help make this possible?

Mind Over Matter

Imagine yourself sitting on the couch, exhausted after a long day, wishing you had the TV remote control. Wouldn't it be great if, instead of getting up to pick it up from the coffee table, you could use your mind to turn the TV on and flip through the channels? This idea may sound like science fiction, but it may not be as far-fetched as it sounds.

The ability to move objects with the mind is known as telekinesis. It has long been speculated that people use only a small portion of their brains. It is said that if we used the full potential of our brain, we would discover that it has amazing abilities, including the ability to move objects without touching them.

One person famous for her alleged ability to use her brain this way was Nina Kulagina. Kulagina, a Russian housewife born in 1927, caused a sensation in the 1960s and 70s with her alleged mental powers. Kulagina demonstrated her ability in a number of experiments, many of which were filmed. In one experiment, she separated the yolk and the white of an egg dropped into a tank of water. In her most incredible experiment, Kulagina used her mind to slow a frog's heartbeat until it stopped completely.

Many in the scientific community are skeptical about whether Kulagina's powers were real or just a trick. However, many of these same people believe it is entirely possible for the brain to move an object—with the help of technology. For decades, scientists have been working on finding a way to make it possible for disabled people who do not have use of their hands to control devices with the brain. Recently, great progress has been made in this effort.

In 2004, a paralyzed 25-year-old man named Matthew Nagle became the first person to benefit from such technology. Nagle had a chip that could read his mind implanted in his brain. Wires connected to both the chip and a computer fed the information from the chip into the computer. The computer analyzed this information, and converted it into computer commands. The computer then sent these commands to various devices in Nagle's home.

As a result, Nagle was able to do things like turn the lights in his home on and off, and open email, just by thinking about doing these things. The hope is that one day this technology will make it possible for people like Nagle to regain the use of their arms and legs.

Recent research has focused on making this technology simpler by replacing the computer chip with a cap. Brain waves can be picked up by the cap and sent to a computer, which then carries out the commands. The advantage of this approach is that the cap is wireless and does not require surgery. However, further research is needed to make this wireless technology as effective as the brain chip.

While this technology has the possibility of dramatically improving the lives of disabled people, there are also many less dramatic, commercial uses for it. For example, one company is developing a remote control that can be controlled with thoughts. So the next time you are feeling too lazy to get off the couch to get the remote control, take heart—soon you may indeed be able to stay on the couch and turn on your TV without lifting a finger!

After Reading

A. Complete the sentences with these words:

Writing Prompt

Write an essay about a new kind of technology. It can be a technology that is already in use or that will be used in the future. Explain the technology and tell the reader whether you think it is a good thing or not, and why.

Write Your Essay

1. Decide what technology you want to write about.
2. Use two or three sources from the library or Internet to find information about the technology. Use a note-taking chart to keep track of your sources and the information you find in each.

Source	Notes

3. Write a draft of your essay.
4. Have a partner read and comment on your draft. Use your partner's comments and suggestions to revise your essay. Include a list of the sources you used in your final draft.

Developing Your Writing: Taking Notes and Citing Sources

Take notes on key facts and note the source of the information. It is important to put the information in your own words, rather than simply copying text word for word from your source. Copying the words of another writer and using them as your own is called plagiarism.

Include a list of your sources at the end of your essay. If the source is a book, write the name of the author, the title of the book, the city and name of the publisher, and the year it was published. If the source is a Web page, write the name of the author (if known), the website title, the title of the article, the date you found the page, and the URL of the page.

Robotic Surgery

You may think of robots as things that only turn up in science fiction, but robots are actually a part of everyday life. Robots are used for many different tasks. For example, robots are used to manufacture cars, to explore space, and to assist the military and police officers in dangerous situations. And believe it or not, now robots can even be used to perform surgery on patients ...

How to Write a Funny Joke

In order to learn how to write a joke that will make people laugh, you first need to consider what makes a joke funny. One common type of joke is one that shows the irony of a situation. This is when the listener's assumptions about the world are the opposite of the reality in the joke. In addition, you will need to consider your audience. You will get more laughs over different types of jokes with your friends at school than you will with your grandparents.

The Setup: Setting up your joke is important. The setup should tell the audience who the characters are. Also, if it's relevant, it should tell us where and when the joke is happening. Next, the joke should go on to explain the details of the situation. Be careful not to make your joke too long or too confusing. Keep it simple and stick to the point. Also, effective jokes have easy ways to differentiate the characters, like the first man and the second man, or the father mouse and the young mouse.

The Punch Line: The first rule in writing a good joke is that every joke needs a punch line and, more importantly, a punch word to make the audience laugh. The punch line turns the idea of the joke. Suddenly, the audience can see that their assumptions are different than the reality of the situation in the joke. In a well-written joke, the punch line is the last line of the joke, and the punch word is the last word of the punch line. This is important because otherwise people don't know when to laugh. They will start to laugh, but then stop because they will think that the joke is not over yet.

Looking at a Joke: Now let's look at the joke about the parrot that attends a lecture. It's on the first page of Unit 9 of your Student Book. The joke starts:

A student with a parrot on his shoulder leaves a lecture theater. Another student follows him...

This gives us a clear picture of who the characters are (a student, a parrot, and another student), where the characters are (outside a lecture theater), and when it is taking place (after the lecture).

The joke continues:

He stops him and says, "I'm sorry to bother you, but I have to say, I was astonished by your parrot's remarkable reaction to the lecture on ancient history. He seemed frightened at the frightening parts, sad at the depressing parts, fascinated at the interesting parts, and amused at the funny parts. I could have sworn I even heard it laugh. I have to say, I was amazed. Don't you find it surprising?" "Yes," he replies, "I was very surprised..."

This is the body of the joke. It explains what has happened. (The parrot was listening to the lecture and seemed to understand it.) It also gives us a clear picture of the other student's assumption (which is likely shared by the audience) that parrots shouldn't be able to understand lectures. The student's question "Don't you find it surprising?" indicates that he assumes the student with the parrot will agree with him, and when he says "I was very surprised" it seems to be confirmed.

The joke finishes:

He hated the class!

"He hated the class!" is the punch line, and "class" is the punch word. By mention of the word "class" the audience knows that the parrot can attend class, and the student thinks it's normal. This juxtaposes the assumption of the listener with the reality of the situation, which in turn, makes the audience laugh!

The chemical formula!	I am... Tess.	I am the ninth letter of the alphabet.
Well, you told us it's H to O.	I won't get sick.	What happened to all the books?
You don't have any books.

Four high school boys were late for their morning classes. After lunch they reported to the teacher that they had had a flat tire on the way to school. Much to their relief, the teacher smiled and said: "Well, you missed the test, so sit down and take out a piece of paper." He waited for them to sit down. Then he said: "First Question: _____"

Teacher: Brian, what is the chemical formula for water?
Brian: H I J K L M N O.
Teacher: What are you saying?
Brian: _____

Teacher: Tess, give me a sentence starting with "I."
Tess: I is...
Teacher: No, Tess... Always say, "I am."
Tess: All right...

A class of fifth graders was riding along in a school bus, happy to be on an educational trip. The teacher told them that they would write about what they saw for their homework. Most of them were looking out the windows and pointing to different things. All of a sudden, the teacher noticed that a boy was sitting on the floor, between the seats, with his hands over his eyes. "Why are you sitting like that? Are you OK?" "Well," said the boy, "if I don't see anything, _____"

Student: Mr. Smith, I ain't got no books.
Teacher: Young man, you mean, I don't have any books. You don't have any books. We don't have any books. They don't have any books. Do you see what I'm getting at?
Student: I think so.

H READING

Read the article and answer the questions.

Where in the world?

Many of the fruits and vegetables we see on our supermarket shelves today are cultivated in most continents on the planet. But this wasn't always the case. Have you ever stopped to think where these foods were first grown?

Date

Dates have been a dominant part of people's diets in the Middle East for thousands of years. The date palm, the tree on which the fruit grows, is probably the most ancient cultivated tree in the world and may have originated in the region we now know as Iraq. Today, dates are widely cultivated across Northern Africa, the Middle East, and South Asia. The fruit isn't only delicious, it's also very nutritious: it contains protein and vitamins, and is high in potassium and fiber. Saudi Arabia is now one of the world's biggest producers of dates.

Orange

The fruit we know for its high Vitamin C content is actually a hybrid, meaning it was created by combining the genes of two fruits: the pomelo and the mandarin. Oranges are grouped into two basic types according to their taste: the sweet orange and the bitter orange. When most of us talk about oranges, we actually mean the sweet orange, which is the fruit we eat and squeeze to make fruit juice. Bitter oranges are used in Chinese medicine and to make marmalade. Oranges originated in Southeast Asia, in a region including the northeastern part of India, southern China, and northern Myanmar. Today, Brazil is the leading producer of oranges in the world.

Tomato

People often associate them with Mediterranean cuisine, but tomatoes are native to Mexico and Central America. The Aztecs grew them back in the eighth century. In the sixteenth century, Spanish explorers introduced tomatoes to Spain, and the tomato's popularity spread quickly throughout Europe. The French, Germans, and Italians absolutely loved them. But the British thought they were poisonous at first. In the nineteenth century, a British diplomat introduced tomatoes to the Middle East, and now Egypt is among the world's top tomato producers.

Avocado

Long before the avocado became a trendy item on restaurant menus, it was cultivated by the Aztecs. The avocado is an oily fruit, rich in vitamins A, B, and C. The fruit does not get ripe on the tree. People need to pick it from the tree before it develops its flavor and full maturity. Sailors used to call avocados "seaman's butter," because the fruit lasts for a long time and it was good for sea voyages. A significant number of resources are needed to cultivate the fruit, since an avocado tree takes three to five years to start bearing fruit. Today, Mexico is the largest producer and exporter of avocados in the world.

1. Why are dates considered nutritious? _____

2. How did Europeans react when tomatoes were introduced throughout Europe? _____

3. Where were oranges first cultivated? _____
4. Why were avocados called "seaman's butter"? _____

5. Which two Middle Eastern countries are among the world's leading producers of tomatoes and dates?

I Read the list of ingredients for the pasta salad. Are there any ingredients that you don't like? What would you replace them with? Would you add anything?

Mythical Animals

There are many animals that are mythical, or not real. It is agreed that most mythical animals, such as a dragon or a unicorn, truly are myth. However, with others, such as Bigfoot, the Chupacabra, and the Loch Ness Monster, there is more of a debate. Read on, and then you can decide for yourself if you think they are real or myth.

Bigfoot

There have been numerous sightings of a large, hairy creature known as Bigfoot. It is believed that this creature roams the forests of North America and looks like an enormous ape that walks on two feet. It is said that the same or similar creatures are found around the world under different regional names, most prominently the Yeti of the Himalayas. Witnesses have described Bigfoot as having large eyes and a large, low-set forehead. It is also reported to have a strong, unpleasant smell and enormous footprints. Bigfoot is believed to be omnivorous and mainly nocturnal. The scientific community considers Bigfoot to be a combination of folklore, misidentification, and hoaxes, rather than a real creature.

The Chupacabra

The legendary Chupacabra has puzzled zoologists for over 50 years. Stories of a strange beast drinking the blood of livestock were first reported in Puerto Rico in the 1950s. Since then, other sightings have been reported in Brazil, Chile, Mexico, and the U.S. Most eye-witnesses describe a beast that stands over one meter tall, which hops like a kangaroo on its hind legs. It is said to have leathery skin with long, sharp spines along its back. Witnesses also say that when alarmed, its red eyes glow and it gives off an unpleasant odor. Skeptics claim the Chupacabra is little more than a hoax or a mistaken identity, but others believe it actually exists.

The Loch Ness Monster

Thousands of people have reported seeing the Loch Ness Monster. This creature is said to live in the depths of the Scottish lake, Loch Ness, and supposedly resembles a dinosaur. The Loch Ness Monster first entered the public eye in 1933, when a newspaper published a full-page story about a couple who had been visiting Loch Ness and had seen a prehistoric animal with another animal in its mouth. Yet evidence of its existence is anecdotal, with minimal and much-disputed photographic material and sonar readings. The scientific community regards the Loch Ness Monster as a modern day myth, and explains sightings as a mix of pranks and wishful thinking.

1. _____ Many people think dragons are real.
2. _____ Bigfoot has mostly been seen in North America.
3. _____ Bigfoot looks similar to a goat.
4. _____ The Chupacabra attacks farm animals.
5. _____ The Loch Ness Monster is believed to live in a lake.
6. _____ Scientists think that the Loch Ness Monster is probably real.

Kohlberg's Theory of Moral Reasoning

A moral dilemma is a big problem or quandary that will have both positive and negative outcomes no matter what decision is made. Kohlberg's Theory of Moral Reasoning describes the development that people go through when making moral decisions. It has six sequential stages, meaning that they go in order, and that no stage is ever skipped. Kohlberg's theory is based on his research, which consisted of presenting the following Heinz Dilemma to his subjects and having them make a decision about what they would do:

A woman was near death from a special kind of cancer. There was one drug that the doctors thought might save her. It was a form of radium that a druggist in the same town had recently discovered. The drug was expensive to make, but the druggist was charging ten times what the drug cost him to produce. He paid $200 for the radium and charged $2,000 for a small dose of the drug. The sick woman's husband, Heinz, went to everyone he knew to borrow the money, but he could only get together about $1,000, which was half of what it cost. He told the druggist that his wife was dying and asked him to sell it cheaper or let him pay later. But the druggist said, "No, I discovered the drug and I'm going to make money from it." So Heinz got desperate and broke into the man's store to steal the drug for his wife. Should Heinz have broken into the laboratory to steal the drug for his wife? Why or why not?

In order to determine which stage of moral reasoning each person was in, Kohlberg would focus on how they supported the decision they made, rather than the decision itself. The stages are as follows:

Stage 1: Obedience In this stage, the focus is on avoiding punishment. The rules for right and wrong are determined by parents and teachers. Example answer: He should not steal the medicine, because he will go to jail.

Stage 2: Self-Interest Subjects concentrate on their own needs and occasionally the needs of others. Fairness is present, but decisions are made based upon their own desires. Example answer: Heinz should steal the medicine, because he will be happier if he saves his wife, even if he has to go to jail.

Stage 3: Conformity People in this stage will emphasize being nice or good to gain approval from others. Example answer: Heinz should steal the medicine because he wants to be a good husband.

Stage 4: Social Systems People in this stage define right and wrong by doing one's duty to society. They are concerned with showing respect for authority and maintaining social order for its own sake. Example answer: Heinz should steal the drug for his wife but also be punished for the crime. He should also pay the druggist what he is owed.

Stage 5: Human rights In this stage, subjects are concerned with human rights. They try to define moral values apart from the authority of the group. Example answer: Heinz should steal the medicine because everyone has a right to choose life, regardless of the law.

Stage 6: Universal Human Ethics In the final stage of moral development, subjects follow self-chosen ethical principles that are valid and applied universally. Example answer: Heinz should steal the medicine, because saving a human life is a more important value than the property rights of another person.

1. Read the Heinz dilemma. What would you do if you were Heinz? Why?

2. Now read the stages again. Which stage of moral development are you in right now?

12 What Would You Do?

I A. Read Carl's dilemma and answer the questions.

Carl was studying as his younger brother Sid played nearby. He had promised to keep an eye on his brother until their parents came back.

Suddenly, the phone rang; it was Mitch, Carl's best friend. Mitch wanted to come over and show Carl a new gadget that he had just bought. Carl looked at the time. He would have to get his brother ready for bed. This was all his idea. He had suggested that they stop using a babysitter as he could look after Sid. As expected, their father suggested that Carl get an additional allowance for his help.

Their parents were not due back for at least an hour. He needed about 20 minutes to feed Sid and then put him to bed, so that would probably leave another half hour if he didn't read a story to him. But without a story, Sid would probably refuse to go to sleep. He could, of course, give him that model car that he liked so much. It had small parts and it wasn't supposed to be safe, but Sid was very careful with things like that. A prized model car for a story...Was it a good deal? But he did want to see Mitch's new remote control for his game console. He was interested in using his extra allowance to buy one himself.

He decided to give the car to Sid. By the time he made up his mind, Mitch had arrived. Carl realized that he hadn't fed his brother. He asked Mitch to wait, went into the kitchen and warmed up some milk. He put some cookies on a plate and gave them to Sid. Sid took one sip of milk, dropped the cup on the carpet, and started crying. The milk was too hot. Mitch suggested they give Sid some ice cream to soothe him. So Sid had ice cream for dinner, and the model car. All was well.

When their parents returned, they found Mitch and Carl playing. They knew Mitch and were happy to see that Carl had company. They asked him if he'd fed Sid and put him to sleep.

Carl said he had. All of a sudden, they heard a choking sound from Sid's room and ran upstairs. Sid was sitting on his bed hanging onto the model car, choking on a part he had pulled off.

"Sid," said the mother. "It's all right, hang on. Why did you take Carl's car? I've told you not to."

1. What did the mother assume?
2. What was Carl's dilemma at that point?
3. Did Carl betray his parents' confidence in him? Why? Why not?
4. Did he betray his younger brother? Why? Why not?

G Read the account of a real incident that caused a lot of laughter and answer the questions.

My father was sitting at his desk, talking to a patient. He was a dedicated medical doctor and used to get very absorbed in his work. This often prevented him from noticing other mundane things around him, such as untidiness, worn out hinges, nails that were about to come off the wall, etc.

Anyway, he started looking for some medication that he had left on his desk. He was obviously not happy when he realized that someone must have gone in to tidy up in his absence, against his express wishes not to touch anything on his desk. Feeling quite annoyed he banged his hand on the desk, upon which the patient was startled and jumped up as a large painting that was on the wall over my father's chair and desk, came down, was ripped when it landed on his head, and ended up resting on his shoulders like a huge rectangular collar. Fortunately, he was not hurt. It was a very old oil painting and the canvas must have been quite fragile.

The patient, who was initially horrified, stood there trying to suppress his laughter with my father glaring at him, livid with anger, until he stole a look in the mirror diagonally opposite his desk and saw himself collared by the painting, with his head sticking out. He started laughing so hard, they couldn't get the painting off him. And as this kind of laughter happens to be quite infectious everyone who was there witnessing the scene couldn't stop laughing either. He later said that the sight was so surreal, he could not help himself. He never had another painting above his desk after that, but would chuckle for months when he entered his office and saw the mark on the wall. He grudgingly let someone paint the wall nearly a year later.

1. Where did the incident take place?

2. Who were the people involved?

3. What caused the painting to fall?

4. Did anyone get hurt?

5. What was the doctor's initial reaction?

6. What caused him to start laughing uncontrollably?

7. Why do you think he wanted to keep the mark on the wall?

8. What would you have done if you'd been in his position?

Penicillin was originally (1) _____ by a French medical student in 1896 and rediscovered by bacteriologist Alexander Fleming in London, in 1928. Fleming observed that colonies of bacteria adjacent to a blue-green mold in a culture were being (2) _____ by the mold.

He (3) _____ the mold by producing it in a pure culture and confirmed that it produced a substance that killed a number of bacteria. Having named the (4) _____ penicillin, Dr. Fleming published the results of his research, pointing out that mass production of penicillin could have therapeutic value.

Penicillin's ability to kill infectious bacteria was not (5) _____ until 1939, when Dr. Florey and his colleagues began intensive research at Oxford University. They had to turn to the United States for help during the Second World War as resources in Britain and Europe had been depleted.

They were (6) _____ to the Peoria lab, where scientists were already working on fungal cultures.

By 1941, Andrew J. Moyer, who specialized in the (7) _____ of molds, found a way to increase the (8) _____ of penicillin ten times. Clinical trials, in 1943, proved that penicillin was the most effective antibacterial agent to date. Production was increased to make sure it was available to treat wounded soldiers.

Four years after mass production began, it was discovered that microbes had developed a resistance to penicillin, so the production of different types of antibiotics was necessary.

Capitalization

Rules for using capital letters are often different in English from the rules for using them in your own language, so it's important to check your written work for mistakes after you finish. Review the rules below and then complete the exercises.

1. Always use capitals at the beginning of sentences and quotations.
2. Use capitals for the names of cities, countries, rivers, lakes, mountains, universities, etc.
3. Use capitals for the days of the week and months of the year, but don't use them for the seasons.
4. Most jobs don't need capitals.
5. Use capitals for every word in titles, except for articles, conjunctions, and prepositions, unless they are the first word.
6. Use capitals for the names of organizations, but not for their products.
7. Use capitals for nationalities, languages, and religions.
8. Use capitals for family words when they appear alone or followed by a name, but don't use them when the word has a possessive pronoun or an article before it.
9. Use capitals for the names of holidays and historical events.
10. Don't use capitals for school subjects unless they are the name of a language.

A. Read the sentences and write the number(s) of the rule(s) each one illustrates.

- | | |

| 6. They graduated one Wednesday in the fall. | _____ |
| 7. Uncle Dan majored in French and Latin. | _____ |
| 8. Steve Queen will be talking about his new book, Out in the Cold . | _____ |

B. Look at the sentences and decide if the use of capital letters in each one is correct or incorrect. If the use is incorrect, change it.

1. I was born in Brooklyn, New York.
2. How long have you been studying english?
3. Have you read 20,000 leagues under the sea?
4. My favorite season is spring.
5. Faisal wants to be a Doctor when he's older.
6. Paul turned and asked, "what time does the game start?"
7. Tony thinks he's very clever because he studied at harvard university.
8. Roy and Colin are really excited because they're going skiing in december.

C. Rewrite the sentences using capital letters correctly.

1. my father was born in london on october 16, 1967.
2. veronica can speak russian, french, spanish, english, and italian.
3. gregor fischer, the famous french writer, has just published his new novel wind in the trees.

Error Correction: Unnecessary Words

When checking your work, you need to think carefully not only about whether or not words are missing, but also if some words are unnecessary, either grammatically or because they are repeating something you've already said. Look at the guide below to help you.

1. the: The is commonly included by accident when you are translating from your own language.

Remember, for example, that English doesn't use the before nouns when talking about things in general, or when talking about abstract nouns.

I don't think students should be given more homework.

Unemployment is one of the biggest problems in the developed world.

2. Prepositions: Sometimes a word in your native language needs a preposition before or after it, but in English it may be unnecessary. Think carefully—are you writing in English or simply translating?

I went home at six o'clock.

(NOT: I went to home at six o'clock.)

3. and: Although it is not grammatically incorrect, we do not usually include and in lists until before the final item.

I went shopping and bought a suit, three shirts, a pair of shoes, and a tie.

4. Words that have the same meaning: Be careful not to repeat yourself by using words that have the same meaning. For example, something can be big or large, but saying A big, large tiger sounds very strange, because it repeats the same concept.

5. Contractions: Don't repeat words that are already present in contractions.

Jack's been to Kenya.

(NOT: Jack's has been to Kenya.)

6. Personal pronouns: Don't use personal pronouns if you've already used a name in the same clause.

Lindsay lives in Mexico.

(NOT: Lindsay she lives in Mexico.)

A. Read the sentences and write the number(s) of the rule(s) each one illustrates. Correct the mistake(s) in each sentence.

1. Donna Keeley she likes reading the books and the poetry. _____

2. Can you ask to the waiter for the check? _____

3. Although he is very clever intelligent, Ali failed to his math test. _____

4. I normally get to the work at eight in the morning and go for the lunch at twelve. _____

5. Could you lend to me five dollars, please? _____

6. I'm very really interested in the ancient history. _____

7. Even though they threatened to him, he refused not to tell them the secret. _____

8. The violence is never an answer to the problems. _____

9. My brother he lives in Washington, D.C. _____

10. We're are looking forward to seeing you the next week. _____

Writing Skills 3

Punctuation 1

Although your language may use the same punctuation symbols as English, it is important to realize that English may have different rules for using them. Punctuation in English can affect meaning, and poorly punctuated writing is very difficult for the reader to understand.

1. Periods: Use a period after statements and commands.

I've decided to change jobs.

Make me a cup of coffee, please.

2. Question marks: Use a question mark after, but never before, questions. Don't use one after reported questions, use a period instead.

"Have you got any change?"

"What time is it?" she asked.

She asked me what time it was.

3. Exclamation points: Use after surprising pieces of information and exclamatory phrases or sentences.

I got a promotion!

Oh, stop it!

No way!

4. Quotation marks: Use quotation marks at the beginning and the end of direct speech. Other punctuation usually goes before the end of the quotation marks. Quotation marks are also often used to show the title of articles, poems, stories, etc.

Mark said, "I really don't think you want to do that."

Have you ever read "The Road Not Taken" by Robert Frost?

5. Apostrophes: Use apostrophes in contractions and in the formation of possessives.

Please don't do that.

He's so smart it's unbelievable.

Have you seen Tom's new car?

Mike's apartment is very spacious.

A. Look at the sentences below and include the correct punctuation marks (commas and capital letters are already given).

1. Well arrive at about half past seven
2. Its raining What are we going to do
3. He asked me what time the banks closed I said I didnt know
4. Dont touch that iron Youll burn yourself
5. Have you met Mohammeds cousin, Adel
6. Aisha turned to Mona and said, I'm sorry, but I still dont know what you mean
7. Hes written a new poem called Seasons
8. Can you give me a call in the morning he asked You know how bad I am at waking up early

B. Decide if the punctuation in the following sentences is correct. If it's incorrect, change it.

1. I have to go to school and speak to my children's teacher.
2. "Would you like him to call you back"? she asked.
3. The horse lifted it's head and looked at us.
4. We've invited the Harrison's to dinner.
5. "Leave me alone!" Tom screamed, "Nobody here understands me."
6. I'm reading an interesting article called "Safer Internet."

Writing Skills 4

Punctuation 2

The comma has various uses in English, often helping to divide various pieces of information that appear in the same sentence.

Use commas:

- to separate items in a list
We went to Spain, France, Italy, and Greece on vacation.
- after yes and no in answers
Yes, I did. No, I haven't seen him recently.
- before conjunctions (e.g., and, but, so) that separate two clauses
He didn't like living in Washington, but he didn't want to leave his job.
- to separate names of people in direct address
How very nice to see you again, Mr. Smith.
- after transitional expressions (e.g., for example, however, furthermore)
Successful products today are truly international. For example, Microsoft programs are recognized all over the world.
- to separate adjectives that modify the noun separately
Gerry was tall, athletic, and very clever.
- to separate quotation marks for direct speech from the rest of the sentence
"I'm bored," Tim said. "When are we going to do something different?"
- to separate clauses
As soon as I get to the office, I'll send you the report.
- to separate non-defining clauses from the rest of the sentence
Tony Wakefield, who came to Mexico in 2009, is a director.
- to separate interjections
I am, by the way, also going to Chicago.

Don't use commas:

- when the conjunction does not separate two independent clauses
I want to get married and have children.
- for names when it is not direct address
I spoke to Dr. Franklin and he said that it was no problem.
- for defining relative clauses
That's the man who stole my car!

A. Insert commas in the appropriate places in the sentences below.

1. What do you think John?
2. If I had a million dollars I'd buy a house on the coast.
3. It was very hot in the sun so we moved our chairs into the shade.
4. "I really don't think that that's fair" he said "You hardly know me."
5. Mr. Wassermann who was born in Germany has taught at the school for the last twenty years.
6. For breakfast this morning I had yogurt peaches toast and coffee.
7. I've had these books for over a year. However I only started reading them last month.
8. Yes I know what you mean but I really don't agree!
9. When you get to the hotel can you give me a call?

Speaking Skills 1

Requests, Offers, Refusals, and Saying Thank You

Asking people to do things and offering to do things for other people are things we do regularly in spoken English. Nonetheless, choosing the right words can be difficult because we don't want to offend the other person. Study the chart below for appropriate expressions.

Requests	I wonder if you'd mind... Could you possibly...? Would you mind if I (past simple)...? Would you mind verb + -ing ...? Could you...? Can you...?
Offers	I'll... Would you like me to...?
Refusals	Thank you, but there's no need. Sorry, but I'm not really interested. Sorry, but that won't be possible. Sorry, but I'd really rather not. No, thank you.
Saying thank you	Thank you so much. Thank you very much. Thanks. That was very thoughtful of you.

A. Work with a partner. Role-play conversations based on the following situations.

1. Offer to give a friend a ride to the shopping mall.
2. Someone comes to the door and wants to sell you something. You don't want it.
3. Someone stops you on the street and asks you to answer some questions for a market research survey. You don't want to do it.
4. Your friend's cousin is coming to visit your town from New York. Offer to meet him/her for lunch one day and go sightseeing.
5. You are on a long bus journey. The person next to you has finished reading his/her magazine. Ask if you can read it.
6. You are on vacation in the U.S. You are not sure what time your bus leaves. Ask someone at the station to help you.
7. You have just won a prize in an essay contest. You have to make a speech and you would like to thank your friends and parents.
8. Explain to the appropriate person that you need to take time off from work or school to go to the dentist.
9. You need to ask your friend to lend you some money.
10. Your grandfather gives you a watch for your graduation. It's the one that you've always wanted.

Discussions

Look at the chart for ways to express your opinion, say whether you agree or disagree, and clarify ideas.

Expressing your opinion	As far as I'm concerned... From my point of view... I think/feel/believe that... I've always thought/felt/believed that... In my opinion...
Agreeing	I agree with... I couldn't agree more. I think that you've got a very good point there. I think that's right.
Disagreeing	Actually, I don't think that's right. I disagree. I don't agree. I see your point, but... I'm sorry, but I just can't agree with that.
Clarifying ideas	Another way of putting it, is to say that... Could you possibly explain what you mean by that? Do you mean that...? So if I understand you correctly, you mean... What do you mean by that? What I mean is...

A. Work with a partner. Look at the following statements and discuss each one. One of you should agree with the statement and the other should disagree. Try to discuss each topic for as long as possible. Use the phrases in the chart above when appropriate.

- Smoking should be banned all over the world.

- Cell phones should be banned in restaurants and other public places.
- Learning English isn't as important as people think it is.
- Nobody should have to pay for health care.
- Wild animals shouldn't be kept in zoos.
- Texting and talking on phones while driving should be illegal.
- Studying grammar is more important than practicing speaking skills.
- Twenty-one should be the legal driving age around the world.
- The government should pay for college or university education.

Speaking Skills 3

Sounding Natural

When you speak in English, it's important to try to sound as natural as possible. Ways of making your English sound natural include fillers, which are words and phrases that don't really mean anything, but which speakers often use to open a sentence or give them a little extra time to think. Other ways of sounding natural are to take turns in a conversation instead of dominating it, and to make sounds which show that you're interested in what the other person is saying.

Fillers	Uhhh... Well... Right... You know... I mean... OK...
Take turns	What do you think? What about you? And you? Do you agree or...?
Showing signs of interest	Really? Oh, yes. Uh-huh. Is that right?

A. Complete the conversation with appropriate phrases from the box.

Ali: _____, I think the first thing we need to do is decide when we're going on vacation.
_____, if we don't decide soon, we won't be able to make a reservation.

Fahd: _____.

Ali: So, I have, _____, five vacation days left.

Fahd: _____? I thought you only had four.

Ali: No, no. I have five, and you have five too, don't you?

Fahd: Yeah. _____, I'd like to go to Malaysia again and go to the beach. _____?

Ali: _____, I think I'd like that too. We could go back to that hotel on the beach, _____,
The Big Blue.

Fahd: Great! Let's make a reservation.

B. Practice conversations with your partner on the following topics. Make sure you take turns and show interest in what one another is saying.

- Planning a graduation ceremony for your class
- Your favorite TV show
- Your favorite time of the year
- Your career plans
- The best cell phone to buy

Speaking Skills 4

PowerPoint and Poster Presentations

When preparing a presentation, it is important to bear in mind the audience and the time available for the presentation. Most people tend to try and pack too much information into a short time. However, the key is to be selective, and present things that the audience is going to be interested in or intrigued by.

Preparation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Brainstorm ideas on the subject and make notes or audio record. • Research and collect information from different sources. • Select the items of information that you would like to present and make notes about them, using your own words.
PowerPoint presentation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Use sheets of paper to make rough sketches of how you want to present your subject. • Use one sheet for each PowerPoint slide. Limit bullet points to about 4 or 5 items. • Include photos or drawings. • Use smaller cards for your personal notes with more information about what you plan to say to your audience. • When you use your computer, you can transfer your notes to the space provided on each PowerPoint slide, which only you can see (not the audience). • Use your sheets to practice/rehearse your presentation. • If you are working in groups, share the sections of the presentation and the number of slides out equally, so that each member of the group will present/speak for approximately the same amount of time.
Poster Presentation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Cut out different-sized pieces of paper for your text or bullet points. • Cut out photos from publications or print them out. • Try out different layouts on a large sheet of paper or cardboard to decide how you are going to compose your poster, what colors you are going to use, font size or handwriting, shapes, etc. Stick things in place temporarily, using tape that can be removed easily without damaging the paper or cardboard. • Hold up your poster or put it up on the wall/board to check that it is not too crowded and that texts and photos are clearly visible. Make any changes you think are necessary before finally sticking things into place. • If you are working in groups, share out sections of your presentation equally.

- A. Work with a partner. Choose a topic, e.g. a sport like the ones you have read about or are familiar with, an activity, a place, or an object/device. Choose no more than 5 points to present with one or two photos/visuals. Present the topic to your partner. Comment on and evaluate each other's presentation.
